Kennesaw Survey Board Announced By War Secretary

Col. William P. Stokey Selected To Represent Engineers' Corps on Battlefield Commission.

HARRIS AND CLEM NAMED BY DAVIS

Commission Is Expected To Begin Its Work at Once Since Report Must Be Made by November 1.

Washington, May 28.—(Special.)—Secretary of War Davis has named former Governor Nat E. Harris, Major General John L. Clem, "the drummer boy of Shiloh," and Lieutenant Colonel William P. Stokey, of the army engineer corps, as the commission to survey Kennesaw mountain battlefield and others in Georgia to determine their suitability for nationl military parks.

The commission, named today by the war secretary, is expected to begin its inspection soon.

The appointment of Major General Clem, who now lives here, as the union veteran member of the commission, will be received with wide favor in Georgia, as the general formerly resided in Atlanta for a period of five years, going there as a lieutenant in the quartermaster department and later being promoted to captain and then major, serving in the last rank as head of the quartermaster department of the old gulf division. He was subsequently promoted through various ranks to brigadier general and upon reaching the retirement age was made a major general by President Harding.

General Clem has many friends in Atlanta and the state. It was some of his old friends in Atlanta who suggested his appointment.

Former Governor Harris was assured of appointment with presentation of his name, because of his public service in the state. He served with distinction in the Confederate army and participated in the battles about Atlanta and Kennesaw mountain, as did Major General Clem.

Lieutenant Colonel Stokey, who represents the engineer corps on the commission, is now stationed at Atlanta. He is a native of Ohio.

An appropriation of $5,000 was provided for expenses of the commission under the bill for its creation, which was introduced by Senator Harris, passed by both houses of congress, and signed recently by President Coolidge. The commission is to report on its survey by November 1, this year and if establishment of national military parks in the state is regarded favorably by the war department, appropriate bills will be introduced in congress next session.

WORK EXPECTED TO BEGIN SOON

Former Governor of Georgia Nat E. Harris and Lieutenant Colonel William P. Stokey, of the army engineer corps, stationed in Atlanta and Major General John L. Clem, appointed to survey Kennesaw Mountain to determine its suitability as a national military park, probably will begin their work in the near future, it was learned Friday night.

Colonel Stokey stated that he had not yet been officially informed by Secretary of War Davis of his appointment, explaining that the designation probably would arrive through the mails. In view of the fact that the commission must report on its survey by November 1, it is believed it will begin plans at once. Ex-Governor Harris is in Macon and Major General Clem resides in Washington.

ATLANTA BUSINESS ON THRESHOLD OF NEW ACTIVITY

Leaders Declare That City Has Never Seen Such Activity as Is Approaching.

IVAN ALLEN TELLS OF NEW FIRMS HERE

May Bank Clearings to Date Already Exceed Total for All of April.

Atlanta is entering the first phases of an era of business and industrial prosperity unprecedented in the history of this city in the opinion of business leaders who pointed out tangible reasons Friday why this city should forge ahead at a rate greater than at any previous period. Establishment of nearly 50 new industries, apartment houses filling up to capacity, records for business house and residence construction being shattered, influx of new citizens from all parts of the country and soaring bank clearings, postal receipts and school attendance records are some of the concrete proofs offered to support their statements by the business men here.

New Citizens Arrive.

In the past few months a decided improvement has come in the general business conditions in Atlanta and there have been marked increases in the number of new people who are coming here to live from all parts of the country, according to the leaders. Many people attracted to the south by the Florida expansion have visited Atlanta and have liked the city so well they have located here, according to statements of business leaders who have kept in touch with this phase of the situation.

One significant feature of the present expansion is the fact that it is coming on the threshold of summer, the time that usually sees a slight lagging in business activities. With promise of good crops in the fall and with the present activity sustained, business leaders predict that Atlanta's growth in the next year or two probably will break even the great records for growth the city already has made.

Among the business leaders who discussed the situation Friday was Ivan E. Allen, former president of the chamber of commerce, and a leader in the "Advertise Atlanta" movement.

Mr. Allen reviewed the results accomplished thus far in the "Advertise Atlanta" campaign, pointing out the number of new industries brought here by this campaign and declaring that the city now is in communication with more than one thousand big industrial companies relative to the location of zone distributing plants in Atlanta.

"In a few months office space in Atlanta is going to be a crying need," Mr. Allen said. "Less than a year ago there was talk about too many office buildings being located here, but right now it is hard to get suites of first-class offices in Atlanta, and the demand is growing greater daily. There are more fine residences being built in Atlanta for exclusive residential purposes, and not for resale purposes, than at any other time in thirty years. Bungalows are being built all over the city; half a dozen collosal real estate developments are under way, and the

The Most Expensive Way to Buy a Chicken Is to Run Over One While the Farmer Is Looking

The most expensive way to buy groceries, meats, vegetables and fruits is to ignore the advertisements in The Constitution and depend upon sheer luck in finding what you want during a tedious and tiresome store-to-store hunt.

The best groceries, markets and produce houses in Atlanta advertise their offerings in The Constitution, giving the last prices for the day. Read these advertisements carefully and make out your list as you read.

GEORGIA JUDGE BILL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

TILSON APPEARS LEADING PROSPECT

Other Candidates in Field, But Atlantan Appears Likely To Be Named, Reports Say.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The act creating an additional federal judicial district in Georgia, was signed today by President Coolidge.

It is to be known as the middle district and Mr. Coolidge is understood to be giving immediate consideration to the naming of a judge for it. Representative Crisp, democrat, Georgia, discussed some names with the president today for the office but his recommendations were not disclosed.

TILSON CONSIDERED FOR FEDERAL JUDGE

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—W. T. Tilson, of Atlanta, is under serious consideration for appointment as judge of the new federal district recently created in Georgia.

While several candidates are still in the ifeld for the position Mr. Tilson appears perhaps the leading candidate. A selection is expected to be made soon.

Tilson's appointment is opposed by both Senators Harris and George, of Georgia. Senator George said today that he would regard the selection of Tilson as a purely political one and is insistent that the office be filled by appointment from the territory embracing the new judicial district. He added that he did not regard Mr. Tilson as a man of sufficient experience in the practice of law to qualify for the judgeship.

Leading republicans in Atlanta Friday said they were expecting the appointment of the new judge for the recently created federal district in Georgia to be made public about Tuesday. It was not considered likely that it will be made Saturday; Monday, Decoration day, is a federal holiday.

MACON MAYOR BOOSTED FOR JUDGE.

Macon, Ga., May 28.—Friends and supporters of Mayor Wallace Miller, who is among those in Macon seeking the new federal judgeship for the middle district, are more active now than ever since word has come from Washington that a deadlock seems to have resulted between Bascom S. Deaver, of Macon, and Joseph Tilson, of Atlanta, two of the most favorable candidates for the new judgeship: Mayor Miller served the government here as assistant United States district attorney and is very familiar with the court's affairs. He also is one of the most active members of the Macon bar, and it is said that he has some strong supporters in Washington.

BENNET INDORSED. FOR NEW JUDGE.

Albany, Ga., May 28.—(AP)—Resolutions indorsing Sam S. Bennet, Albany attorney and brother of Stanley Bennet, member of the state highway commission, and urging his appointment as judge of the new third judicial district of Georgia, were unanimously passed by the Albany Bar association here Thursday.

The resolutions declare that Mr. Bennet is "eminently fitted by his ability, integrity, knowledge of the law and fairness to discharge, with fidelity and capacity, the duties devolving upon a United States judge."

Mr. Bennet's standing at the bar and with the public, conclude the resolutions, is "beyond reproach and his appointment would assure an impartial administration of justice on a high plane."

The resolutions were drafted by a committee acting for the association, and composed of S. B. Lippitt, Thomas I. Milner and E. L. Smith, all prominent members of the Albany bar.

POISON FLOUR SENT TO JUDGE THROUGH MAILS

Kansas City, May 28.—(AP)—A poison plot in which Judge E. E. Porterfield, of the Jackson county circuit court, was to have been killed, was revealed here when analysis of a three-pound "sample" sack of flour, sent through the mails, showed it contained 15,360 doses of a poison.

A search is being made in several western states for a man, whom authorities refused to name, on a federal charge of sending poison through the mails.

The zeal of the would-be murderer to do his job well was his undoing, a chemist said. The amount of poison inserted in the package of flour was so great that it nauseated the victim, giving relief. A smaller amount would have brought a quick and extremely painful death.

JESS SWEETSER REPRESENTS U. S. IN GOLF FINAL

"Bobby" Jones Has Bad Day and Loses to Jamieson, Unknown Scotch Player.

JESS IS FAVORED TO WIN TOURNEY

Experience of American Should Aid Him Greatly In Beating Simpson, Who Lacks Experience.

BY H. C. HAMILTON
Sports Editor, The Constitution

Muirfield, Scotland, May 28.—A young, bronzed, curly-haired, sullen-lipped New Yorker, handicapped by a lame knee, a touch of influenza and a homesick but very excited girl-bride, carries the hopes of the United States on his slender shoulders in the finals of the British amateur golf championship.

Jess Sweetser, former American amateur champion, will meet S. F. Simpson, a youth from the highlands of Scotland, in a 36-hole match for the British title Saturday.

Bobby Jones, upon whose sturdier shoulders American hopes had been pinned, failed to play his best golf Friday, and was put out of the running in the round before the semi-finals by Andy Jamieson, a 21-year-old player from Glasgow.

It was indeed the Atlanta youngster's shoulders which cost him the match and a chance to make an all-America final for the British championship, for Bobby awoke so cramped with rheumatism that a massuer had to work over him before he could get out of bed. Jones, while making no alibi, admitted that his right shoulder pained him greatly throughout the match, which was won by Jamieson, 4 and 3.

The gallery stood aghast today as the magnificent "Bobby" staggered from hole to hole, wild from the tee and unsteady on the greens. He was but a shadow of his real self insofar as his game was concerned, the birdies which he needed to beat the steady play of the Scotch youth and which had come so easily in his Thursday match with the defending champion, failed to come. He shot good golf but

City In Role Of Host Today At All Parks

Young Atlanta Primed To Accept Freedom of Parks And Pools.

Plans of the parks and playgrounds committee of council to entertain 50,000 Atlantans today in Atlanta parks, swimming pools, golf courses, tennis courts and other recreational places were completed Friday night, it was announced by Councilman John A. White, chairman of the committee. Every municipal concession will be free from the time of the official opening at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon until 9:30 o'clock tonight, and young Atlanta Friday was primed for a gala day.

Chief among features will be formal dedication of the new bath house at Piedmont park by Mayor Walter A. Sims at 2 o'clock. The new structure, said to be the finest and one of the largest inland bath houses in the entire country, will be thrown open for inspection at noon.

Mr. White will preside at the dedication program and Mayor Sims will make the principal address. Music by the municipal band, under John A. Scharf, will be a special feature. The same band later will go to Grant park for the opening program.

In honor of the dedication, Mayor Pro Tem. Claude E. Buchanan, acting for Mayor Sims, Friday issued a special order closing city hall departments at noon in order that employees of the city might join the celebration. This is an hour earlier than the city hall usually closes on Saturday.

Pools will open each morning at 5 o'clock and remain open until 10:30 o'clock during the summer months, and at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon and remain open until 9 o'clock at night.

Formal opening of the Piedmont bath house will be preceded at 10 o'clock this morning by a police department review, featuring the drill team.

"MIDDLE OF ROAD" ELEMENT WINNER

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher Elected President of Convention; Six Months' Truce Arranged

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
United News Staff Correspondent

They made a last stand in an effort to "purge" the foreign missionary board, which they claim is dominated by modernists, but were overwhelmingly defeated, their separate ticket for this board being voted down, 1,708 to 481.

Previously they consented to the election of Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, of Oakland, Cal., leader of the "middle-of-the-road" group, to the presidency of the convention and agreed to the slates for the various boards, with the exception of the foreign missionary board. They dropped their opposition to the slates supported by the modernists despite a decision made Thursday night at a mass meeting to run a full separate ticket.

It was generally believed after their failure to defeat the foreign mission slate that they also would drop the various resolutions aimed at a further show-down with the modernists, including a declaration against evolution, about which was expected to center one of the warmest fights of the convention.

The ultra-fundamentalist group has acted contrary to expectations in some cases heretofore, however, and its leaders may call up the resolutions Saturday, when resolutions will be received.

Campaign Continues.

The cessation of hostilities by the fundamentalists for the rest of the convention, which lasts until Monday, will not mean that they have dropped their campaign against the modernists. They are just as determined as ever, according to the tenor of their public and private remarks, and will bend their energies now to a campaign "back home," with the aim of making another fight next year.

This will go forward, despite the six months' truce which was agreed upon by the convention Friday, under which all groups of the church are to engage in a nation-wide evangelical movement during that time.

Ultra-fundamentalist leaders, in announcing they would vote for the evangelical program and engage in harmonious work so far as it was concerned, notified the convention that they would in no sense consider the resolution as a cloture on their right to attack what they believe to be "un-Christian" features of modernism. Two of the leaders, Dr. W. B. Riley, of Minneapolis, and Dr. John Roach Straton, of New York, said they would never close their lips against the encroachment of modernism and Unitarianism.

Committee of 15.

President Edward H. Rhoades, Jr., under authority of the convention, appointed a committe of 15 to plan the evangelical program, which will be carried out with the cooperation of the American Baptist Home Missionary society.

In addressing the convention Friday Dr. Frederick L. Anderson, of the Newton Theological seminary, of Massachusetts, answered demands of the fundamentalists that the foreign mission filed be "purged."

"We will not harry our missionaries with any general inquisition into their opinions," he said.

Other officers elected Friday were: W. C. Coleman, Wichita, Kan., first vice president; Ray L. Hudson, Philadelphia, second vice president; Rev. William C. Bitting, St. Louis, Mo., corresponding secretary; Rev. Charles A. Walker, Dover, Del., statistical secretary, and Orrin R. Judd, New York city, treasurer.

The convention also named an executive committee and filled the various boards which carry on the work.

NATIONAL VOTE ON PROHI LAW SEEMS REMOTE

QUESTION CAUSES CONGRESS CONCERN

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, May 28.—Debate in congress on the proposed national prohibition referendum has disclosed so many difficulties that such a plebiscite will be a long time coming if the house and senate have anything to say about it.

This referendum question is causing far more concern in congress than the noise over the recent executive order might indicate. Senator Caraway was correct when he protested that the senate could discuss nothing without someone bobbing up with views pro and con on the referendum. It is, except for the temporary excitement over the recent executive order, the outstanding feature of the prohibition controversy and has almost superceded entirely the direct efforts to modify the Volstead act.

The senate subcommittee appointed to investigate the legality of the executive order, will meet Tuesday. The order was defended by Senator Blease, South Carolina, democrat, during an attack on the migratory bird bill which would provide federal game officers to protect wild life. He said the executive order is better than this proposed law because it tends to make state officials the enforcing officers of the federal government and eliminates the necessity of sending in more outside federal agents, some of whom, he declared, "do not stop at murder."

Faith in Referendum.

Wets have come to believe that any progress they make will be through referendums, either state or national. But there is considerable doubt here as to just how anxious the wets are to have a national referendum now. So long as they see that the majority in congress is opposed to it, they feel free to clamor for it. But they would be somewhat apprehensive if a national referendum were actually in prospect at this time.

What they want now are referendums in several of the big wet states like New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey to give impetus to their campaign for modification. They know and everybody informed as to political conditions knows that the majority of states probably would go dry in any referendum at this time. Wets do not dispute this privately.

They would not expect to get more than eight or ten states now, if that.

One of the fundamental difficulties with a national referendum, aside from the constitutional question involved, is the fact that the national result would not necessarily influence congress. This is obvious when the provincial instincts of the senator and representative are taken into account.

Political Stunt.

Borah declared in recent deabte that the referendum idea is put forward purely as a stunt by politicians who want to dodge the vexing issue. This applies particularly to presidential candidates and the parties nationally. A national referendum would save many an aspiring presidential candidate from having to answer embarrassing questions. It would make the writing of 1928 party platforms a much simpler task.

D'ANNUNZIO SUFFERS INFLUENZA ATTACK

Gardone, Italy, May 28.—Gabrielle D'Annunzio, the noted Italian poet, is suffering from an attack of influenza contracted May 23, when he received a delegation of Milanese bankers.

The poet insisted on remaining with his head uncovered in a heavy downpour of rain during the reception, although he already was suffering from laryngitis.

Police Surprise Three Youths

:: VACANT HOUSE OWNED BY AGED SISTERS ::

With Loot Worth $220,000

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, May 28.—A deserted house—grim and ghostly.

The opening chapters were revealed today with the arraignment in Yorkville court of three youths, charged with burglary.

Early this morning Patrolmen Mandell and Bogan saw a light in the three-story dwelling at 45 East 31st street. As the house had been unoccupied since 1916 they investigated.

Inside, gloating over the contents of trunks they had pried open and found filled with cash, gold, and silver dinner sets and a wide variety of jewelry, were three young men. They identified themselves as George Bagliero, 19, Rocco Giamarino, 18, and Matthew Mozello, 17. The value of the loot they apparently were about to cart away was later placed at $220,000.

Until ten years ago the house was occupied by the Misses Beatrice and Helen Herzog, unmarried, who live now at the Park Avenue hotel. They left their old home boarded up and in charge of a caretaker.

There will be difficulty, police said, in getting the aged and eccentric sisters to appear against the youths, as they never leave their apartment. A year ago when the house was broken into, they refused to go to court until the insurance company threatened to cancel its insurance.

The youths were held without bail for examination on June 3.

Two Men Crushed Under Landslide On Southern Road

REPORT DISCUSSES SCHISMS OF PAST

Baltimore, May 28.—(AP)—Reiteration of fundamentalist doctrine, tempered slightly by modernism, comprised the body of the report of the committee of 15 presented to the 138th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America today.

The report, prepared by the committee at the order of last year's general assembly, did not touch upon the primary points which have separated the fundamentalists and modernists. Neither did it recognize either body of the church as such.

The main points of division have been a strict interpretation of the virgin birth in body and in spirit, and different ideas regarding the observance of the Westminster articles of faith, which modernists have held might be observed better by the application of present-day, modern viewpoints.

Tendency to Ridicule.

Recognizing that in some religions there is a tendency to ridicule the Bible, considering it only traditional literature, the committee came the nearest to treating the modernist cause.

"As far as the commission has been able to learn," it reported, "there is in the Presbyterian church no second party such as has been described."

No comment was forthcoming from the assembly, the delegates sitting quietly for more than an hour while Rev. Henry C. Swearingen, of St. Paul, read the report in full. Discussion was deferred until Monday.

Reciting the history of dissensions within the church and seeking the causes of the upheaval which has divided the organization into two camps of fundamentalists and modernists, the committee, appointed last year, confined its action to recommending subjects for consideration. No definite action was suggested.

The report centered principally around two subjects, the "spiritual condition of the church and the causes of unrest," and the "power of the general assembly and the effect of its actions."

Counselling liberty of thought outside the fundamentals of the church constitution, the report asserted:

"Toleration as a principle within the Presbyterian church refers to an attitude and a practice according to which the status of a minister or

FIVE GIRLS MEET DEATH IN FLAMES

Eight Persons Are Injured Seriously When Shop In Rockford, Illinois, Is Gutted by Fire.

Rockford, Ill., May 28.—(AP)—Five girls were burned to death and eight persons were known to have been seriously injured in a fire late today which swept a building occupied by the Sutton Toy Shop. The bodies were burned beyond recognition.

One of the injured girls, Catherine Wood, was burned so severely about the face that it is feared she may go blind. Others suffered sprains and injuries in escaping from the second floor of the building. John Sutton, head of the firm, was seriously burned when he insisted on attempting to rescue until forcibly restrained by the firemen.

All but five of the 13 girls employed on the second floor succeeded in finding their way out of the smoke-filled room down the only stairway. The bodies of the five were found by firemen who fought their way into the building.

The fire started when a strip of celluloid being sawed in a machine, on the ground floor, burst into flames.

Two Railway Workmen Killed and Several Others Hurt in Cave-in Near Dallas.

CREW ENDANGERED IN HILL'S COLLAPSE

Paul Puckett and Ralph D. White Die Under Tons of Shifting Dirt; No Warning of Danger.

Two men were killed and the lives of an entire crew of workmen were endangered when an embankment on the right of way of the Southern railroad eight miles north of Dallas caved in Friday morning. Paul Puckett, 30, and Ralph D. White, 25, both of Dallas, were covered by the landslide and died as the result of injuries.

The landslide occurred at Raccoon creek, eight miles north of Dallas, about 9 o'clock. Puckett was almost instantly killed, being crushed under the tremendous force of tons of shifty sand and dry clay. White was rescued by fellow-workmen and rushed to Atlanta aboard a special Southern railway train but died shortly after arriving at a local hospital. An ambulance of Blanchard Brothers met the special train and rushed the dying man to the hospital.

Two other workmen, a white man and a negro, whose names were not learned, were also slightly injured, receiving slight bruises in their almost miraculous escape from the avalanche of dirt.

The accident is said to have been caused by the steam shovel operating far below the surface, creating a cave which fell in.

Puckett was entirely covered up in the landslide and it required some time to dig his limp body from under the mass of earth. White was pinned against a steam shovel which was working on grading the steep embankment at the time of the tragedy and was badly crushed.

According to information received in Atlanta, the two men were under a trestle which was being filled in over Raccoon creek, and were unable to escape the rush of tons of dirt as it slipped down the steep embankment along the tracks at that point.

Puckett is survived by his wife and one daughter. White is survived by his wife and a son and daughter.

ONE NEAR DEATH WHEN HIT BY TRAIN.

Clayton was picked up and hurried to a hospital where physicians announced late Friday night that his condition is serious. He was badly cut and bruised about the body.

According to reports at police station, the train which struck Clayton's machine was a passenger train running between Atlanta and Jonesboro.

POSTOFFICE FUNDS SOUGHT BY UPSHAW

Washington, May 28—(Special.)—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Postmaster General New will hold a conference next Tuesday to map out a program looking toward allocation of funds provided in the public building bill recently enacted, Representative Upshaw was informed Friday when he called upon New and the supervising architect of the treasury department relative to improvements sought in Atlanta.

Upshaw said he was told that it was not time for the Atlanta committee to visit Washington in the interest of the Atlanta postoffice, a decision that had been reached already by the two Georgia senators and himself.

"The postmaster general declared that political and sectional considerations will have no weight in deciding the location of new buildings and annexes, but that the only argument will be the greatest need," Upshaw said in a statement.

"Both the postmaster general and the supervising architect declare that while interviews are always welcome, it will be some time yet before the nation-wide information before the departments will justify the most effective conference.

"The sum of $2,500,000 had been considered for Atlanta before the last bill was passed, and the general impression made on me was the purpose to give Atlanta a big slice of the next appropriation."

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH AT RICHLAND

Richland, Ga., May 28.—(Special.) Mystery still surrounds the death of a Mr. Higginbotham, whose body was found near the track of the Columbus and Albany train here last Sunday morning. The man was from South Carolina and had come here to work on a farm some weeks ago.

The body was badly mangled and it was first thought that he had met his death on the train tracks, but later investigation is said to have disclosed bullet holes in the body. Efforts to get in touch with relatives have failed.

Oglethorpe's Benefactors Praised at Biltmore Dinner

Annual commencement exercises of Oglethorpe university reached a high point Friday night at a dinner given by the Presidents' club of this city at the Biltmore hotel in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Lupton, of Chattanooga, donors of the fund with which Lupton hall was recently completed on the university campus.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Lupton the two honor guests were unable to attend the brilliant affair. The formal opening of Lupton hall, set for this afternoon, will be one of the most impressive ceremonies of the commencement program, notables from other states and high Georgia officials being among those slated to attend.

More than 200 guests were present at the dinner which was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lupton. Members of the Presidents' club and prominent guests spoke in high praise of the gift of the hall to Oglethorpe and pointed out that it came from outside of Georgia, making it the "gift unusual," as one speaker asserted.

Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe, broadcast a message of good will and appreciation to the donors, expressing the hope that Mrs. Lupton would be restored to health speedily.

Program Features.

The program was in charge of Colonel Frederic J. Paxon and Mell R. Wilkinson. The latter presided. The club was presented with a handsome gavel made of wood from a tree that grew in the yard of Dr. Crawford W. Long, by representatives of Georgia Tech.

The following new members were introduced to the presidents' club: C. A. Smith, president of the American Society of Civil Engineers; George H. Phillips, head of the Personnel association; Dr. W. F. Melton, president of the Writers' club, and C. A. Kitchings, of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association.

A number of prominent speakers expressed keenest regret that Mrs. Lupton's illness prevented her presence and that of her husband at the dinner which was arranged to honor them. "We're playing Hamlet," Dr. Jacobs said in his talk, "and Hamlet isn't here."

Lupton hall recently was completed on the campus at a cost of $400,000. It is constructed of blue granite covered with a variegated roof. It is four and one-half stories high and contains capacious rooms for recreation class rooms and offices for officials.

Jacobs Lauds Donors.

Dr. Jacobs said the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Lupton was appreciated most heartily because they are residents of another city and state. This makes the gift unusual, he added.

Guests of honor included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hermance, of Toronto, Canada; W. A. Law, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, of Atlanta; Henry W. Brock, of St. Mary's, Pa.; Dr. J. Fairman Preston, of Decatur, and Dr. M. Ashby Jones, of St. Louis, Mo.

Hosts, composed largely of faculty members and their wives, were Dr. and Mrs. Thornwell Jacobs, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Sellers, Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Nicolassen, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barnes, Professor and Mrs. Mark Burrows, Dr. and Mrs. James Routh, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Aldrich, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Libby, Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Hunt, Professor and Mrs. W. L. Rooney, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. ILLINOIS WELFARE BODY FACES PROBE

Joliet, Ill., May 28.—(AP)—Censured by one grand jury and his resignation demanded by the attorney general as a result of an investigation by a second, Chauncey Jenkins, head of the state welfare department, was brought under fire today by a third official body.

The coroner's jury investigating the murder of Deputy Warden Peter Klein, of the Illinois state prison by seven escaping convicts on May 5, recommended an investigation into the welfare department which directs the prison's affairs, as necessary to guard against future uprising by convicts.

Jenkins Censured.

The Will county grand jury which inquired into the escape and murder had censured Jenkins on the same score, and Oscar Carlstrom, state attorney general, had asked Governor Small to dismiss Jenkins after his name had been coupled with that of Will H. Colvin, chairman of the state parole board, in a Cook county grand jury investigation of pardon and parole affairs.

Elmer Green, successor to John L. Whitman as warden, today received resignations from Captains C. A. Bigford and C. J. Carlson and Chief Clerk B. H. Jones of the prison, three of six subordinates whose dismissal was recommended by the Will county grand jury.

The coroner's jury heard the first public relation of the amazing perpetration of the escape plot of three weeks ago which led to Deputy Klein's death.

Leopold Declines to Talk.

It's "star witness"—Nathan Leopold, serving a life sentence for the Franks murder—declined to testify, attributing his refusal to fear that he would arouse the enmity of his fellow prisoners. But more than half a dozen witnesses related how the seven convicts, gaining Klein's permission for an interview, came to his office, stabbed him to death, called guard Captain Keeley and ordered him to go with them across the yard to get the gate lifted for them, and compelled him to ride with them in the deputy warden's car to freedom.

The conclusion of the inquest ends the inquiries into prison conditions and into the murder and escape unless a suggested welfare department inquiry is taken up. The five recaptured convicts, who have pleaded not guilty to murder charges, will face trial next fall.

WHITMAN TO FIGHT FOR MERIT SYSTEM.

Chicago, May 28.—(AP)—John L. Whitman, dismissed by Governor Small as warden of the state prison at Joliet as a consequence of a grand jury investigation into prison conditions, has no thought of trying to keep his position either by legal or other action.

This he announced tonight after a conference with Clarence Darrow, Chicago attorney and his lifelong friend.

He will fight to the limit, however, he said, to resist the abandonment at the state prison of the merit system which he installed, and to preserve the civil service rights of six employees whose discharge was recommended by the Will county grand jury.

St. Louis, May 28.—(AP)—Sale to the Federal Compress and Warehouse company of Memphis, Tenn., of cotton warehouse facilities belonging to the St. Louis Cotton Compress company and valued at more than $4,000,000 was announced today by Joseph W. Lewis, president of the St. Louis company.

Approximately one-half of the purchase price will be paid in cash and the remainder in stock of the Federal company. J. W. Lewis, Alvin D. Goldman and Milton A. Hellman, officers of the St. Louis concern, will become directors of the Memphis firm.

By the sale the St. Louis Cotton Compress company disposes of its plants at Little Rock, Argenta, and McGehee, Ark., and also its interests in subsidiary corporation, located at Texarkana, Texas, Walnut Ridge, New Port and Marianna, Ark., as well as the compress properties of the Lesser Goldman Cotton company here.

Baltimore, Md., July 18:—"For the past fifteen years I have used your splendid soap, though I had given up in despair of having a good, clear skin, but after using Resinol Soap for one month I noticed a decided improvement. I have also two girls, age five and two, who boast of splendid skin, and they have always been washed with Resinol Soap.

I can assure you of my complete confidence in this soap as well as Resinol Ointment which my father uses constantly for his corns and callouses." (Signed) Vola M. Wheeler, 3443 Chestnut Ave.

Bobbed-Haired Girl Who Hit

Preacher Freed by Governor

Frankfort, Ky., May 28.—(AP)—Governor Fields, of Kentucky, today ordered the Letcher county jailer to release bobbed-haired, 20-year-old, Miss Martha Bates from jail.

She slapped a minister who was reported to have said the bobbed-haired style was ruining the world.

She slapped him on one cheek. He turned the other cheek in vain.

The governor telegraphed to Fess Whitaker, the jailer, that he had granted a 90-day stay of execution of the unsatisfied portion of the jail sentence of 40 days.

Writes Formal Notice.

He then had Miss Cora Morehead, herself bobbed-haired, Kentucky's first pardon commissioner, write out the formal notice to officials of Letcher county, staying the sentence.

He noted Miss Bates' conviction for assault upon the person of the Rev. Arlie Brown, rendered by a circuit court grand jury May 15. The mountain county girl immediately began serving time in county jail and became ill in jail.

"It is my information that the assault was provoked by the unwarranted and unjust criticism on the part of the Rev. Arlie Brown, from the pulpit, of all women who wear bobbed hair," the governor's stay declared.

Miss Bates is a Whitesburg girl of prominent family. She attended church at Thornton's Gap, near there, in February. The Rev. Brown, of Millstone, a substitute preacher, spoke of bobbed-haired women as headed for hell, she said. The slapping almost caused a general fight in church. The members of the congregation crowded about the pulpit, the girl's friends on one side, the minister's on the other.

Hands on Pockets.

Many stood with hands on hip pockets and the minister "figured they had guns and knew how to use them."

While Mr. Brown said he made no reference to bobbed-haired women in general, Miss Bates in a statement to the Associated Press from Whitesburg tonight said:

"I walked over to where he was standing and asked him if he meant in his talk that all women that wore bobbed hair were bad women and he said 'that's gospel, that's gospel,' and then I slapped him as hard as I possibly could. I told him it wasn't hair that makes the woman.

"We must fight the battle against such devils. If we bobbed-haired women had a union, we could get rid of such talk."

Mr. Brown was reported to have said he was not going back to Thornton's Gap, scene of the disturbance.

Barbers Are Busy.

Meanwhile at Newport, Ky., 150 miles north of Whitesburg and its mountain county bordering the Virginia line in southeastern Kentucky, the boss barbers have been securing more than 200 signatures for a petition for pardon from the governor.

The petition, however, has not reached the executive office. "Miss Bates should be pardoned because by resenting the remarks, she defended all women of this country," Boss Barber Walker said, "I venture to say 90 per cent of the women have their hair bobbed."

23 MORO OUTLAWS ARE SHOT TO DEATH

Manila, May 28.—(AP)—Twenty-three Moro outlaws were shot to death when a detachment of Philippine constabulary opened fire on a Moro fort in Lanao province today, where Datu Ambuluto, noted Moro, and his followers barricaded themselves. Constabulary casualties were one killed and eight wounded.

ROSENBLUM HELD IN NEW YORK JAIL ON FORGERY COUNT

Leon Rosenblum, now under arrest in New York, was indicted Friday by a Fulton county grand jury on a charge of forgery in connection with the signing of an alleged ficticious check which was cashed by a local trust company in payment for two $1,000 bonds.

After receiving the bonds, Rosenblum is alleged to have carried one of them to a local bank and borrowed $750, depositing the bond as collateral. He is then said to have gone to New York where he visited a branch office of the local trust company and presented the remaining bond, asking that the branch office cash it at face value.

A deputy sheriff of Fulton county left Friday night for New York to return Rosenblum to the city where he will face a forgery charge in addition to four other indictments charging larceny after trust, recently returned against him.

FLAMES DESTROY FOUR DWELLINGS; OTHERS DAMAGED

Fire of undetermined origin early Friday morning completely destroyed four frame houses, and badly damaged two other structures in the vicinity of Fortune street and East avenue. The total loss was estimated at $7,000 by firemen.

The houses were occupied by negroes and those at 45 and 47 Fortune street, and 167 and 169 East avenue, were completely destroyed, while homes at 163 and 169 East avenue were badly damaged.

Hundreds of residents in the vicinity were attracted by the flames.

MRS. HOLLIS HEADS WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF POLICE FORCE

Mrs. J. A. Hollis, of 479 South Pryor street, wife of Lieutenant J. A. Hollis, was elected president of the woman's auxiliary of the Atlanta police department at a meeting at her home Thursday. Only wives of members of the police department attended the meeting.

Other officers are Mrs. H. T. Brown, vice president; Mrs. O. D. Sewell, secretary; Mrs. T. D. Shaw, treasurer; Mrs. William Weaver, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Grover C. Fain, chaplain.

SIDNEY V. ROGERS TO FACE BIGAMY CHARGES HERE

Sidney Vance Rogers, of Spartanburg, S. C., under indictment charging bigamy, is under arrest in Camden, N. J., and will be returned to Atlanta immediately by Desk Sergeant J. E. Chappelear, of the Fulton county police, who left Atlanta Friday night for that city.

Rogers is alleged to have married early this year, Miss Ruby Jones, of a Hayden stret address, when, according to the indictment, he had a wife and several children in Fitzgerald, Ga. Mrs. Eula Galliene Rogers is named on the indictment as prosecuting witness.

LIGE LAYNE FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 28.—(AP)—Lige Layne, deputy sheriff of Marion county, charged with the murder of J. H. Hennessee, sheriff of Sequatchie county, was given a verdict of not guilty by a jury here today in the federal court. Hennessee was shot by Layne September 3, 1925, in the federal courtroom where the men had gone for the investigation of charges against Mennessee as a codefendnt with others in a charge of obstructing federal officers in the discharge of their duties.

Layne contended that he shot Hennessee in self-defense.

The case had been tried several days and the jury was out only six minutes. This tragedy was one of several growing out of what is known as "the moonshiners' war."

BUNNELL INFANT DROWNS IN DITCH

Bunnell, Fla., May 28.—(AP)—Toddling away from his playmates in a desperate effort to escape being "it" in a game of tag, the 19-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Duttenhaver of this city, stumbled over the abrupt edge of a deep drainage canal at his grandfather's home north of here, and drowned before he could be rescued.

Voice of Bryan Aided Thompson In Church Race

Baltimore, Md., May 28.—The voice of William Jennings Bryan was used to elect Dr. William O. Thompson, of Columbus, O., president emeritus of Ohio State university, as moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly.

A year ago, Bryan expressed a wish in Columbus that Dr. Thompson might become the next moderator, Dr. Raleigh E. Vale, of Chicago, said in placing the educator's name on the candidates' list.

The new moderator has been declared to be in sympathy with the modernist wing of the church.

Whether modernist or conservative, Dr. Thompson made it plain in his inaugural address that he was a firm prohibitionist and that his energies would be directed to holding inviolate not only the tenets of the Presbyterian church but those of the eighteenth amendment as well.

In seconding Dr. Thompson's nomination, Edward Duffield, of Newark, N. J., president of the Prudential Life Insurance company, said that the church did not need a theologian just now so much as a trained administrator.

In polling 532 of 917 votes cast, and sweeping 17 of the 22 voting sections, Dr. Thompson received the largest plurality ever accorded a moderator.

ROME BOND ISSUE INDORSED BY LEGION

Constitution Bureau.

Rome, Ga., May 28.—(Special.)—Unanimous indorsement of the five public improvement bond issues to be voted on in Rome June 29, was given by members of Shanklin-Attaway post, American legion, at the regular semi-monthly meeting last night at headquarters in municipal building.

The legion took the position that as it stood for civic betterment and that the five issues are in keeping with the general program of the organization, it was free to pledge its support to the issues.

The legion members heard their treasurer's report putting them in the best financial shape they have been in two years. Recent activities of the post have enabled the members to pay off all outstanding current debts.

Delegates to the state convention in Albany in June were named and are as follows: Dr. W. H. Lewis, Judge James Maddox, Will A. Patton, Joe Wilkerson, Roy Storey, "Jake" Puryear, W. E. Spann, Allen Battle and J. A. Nichols. Alternates named are: Julian Reese, Roy McKenzie, Henry Smith, E. M. Price, Clyde Gentry, Dean Hardin, Will Birdsong, Hyman Esserman and Leroy Green.

Shorter Banquet.

Rome, Ga., May 28.—(Special.)—Shorter sophomores, according to a custom of many years' standing, were hostesses last night, entertaining the seniors at an elaborate banquet at Hotel General Forrest.

Miss Louis Hendricks, of Tifton, president of the hostess class, offered a toast to the class of 1925, to which Evely Sheffield, of Atlanta, responded with characteristic grace and originality. Other toasts were "The Generation," by Miss Mary Young, Cedartown; "To the Chaperons," Miss Maria Bush, and Mrs. Allie Hayes, by Miss Rosalyn Brown, of Newnan.

Gentry's orchestra furnished delightful music throughout the evening.

Darlington Class Feted.

Rome, Ga., May 28.—(Special.)—All of the 25 members of the graduating class at Darlington School for Boys will attend college next year, it was disclosed when Skeet Yarbrough, president of the class, introduced his classmates as guests of honor at the Kiwanis luncheon yesterday afternoon. J. P. Jones, a graduate of Darlington, and of the University of Georgia, made the principal address at the luncheon, his theme being that of the experience of a student during the first two years at college.

Roland Turner, general agricultural agent of the Southern railway, spoke briefly.

WESTERN FREIGHT RATE CASE HEARING WILL CLOSE TODAY

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Representatives of the growers' and shippers' interests completed the presentation of their case before the interstate commerce commission today as the ninth day of oral arguments on proposed increases in western freight rates came to a close.

H. A. Scandrett, vice president of the Union Pacific railroad, will close for the railroads tomorrow.

In their arguments today, representatives of shippers of more than a dozen commodities added their protests to the long list of those who have attacked the railroads' proposal to establish a horizontal increase in transportation charges.

RELIEF PROMISED PLATTE FARMERS

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Confidence was expressed at the white house today that the turbulent situation in the North Platte irrigation district would be adjusted to give the government an opportunity to furnish water to settlers and provide a way of making payments.

The question was discussed by President Coolidge with Secretary Work and Commissioner Mead of the reclamation service, whom he sent for after Senator Howell and Representative Simmons, republicans, of Nebraska, had communicated with him.

Representative Simmons said he had suggested to the president that the government turn on the water immediately with the understanding that the questions at issue would be arbitrated within the next 30 days. He told the president that the farmers on the project were "in no mood" to negotiate further unless their crops were saved by immediate irrigation.

WORK AND MEAD HANGED IN EFFIGY.

Scott Bluff, Neb., May 28.—(AP)—With no immediate agreement in sight and with their crops in dire need of moisture, the North Platte Valley water controversy assumed an ominous aspect tonight, reports indicated. Some leaders in the fight fear the more radical farmers will resort to violence, which was openly intimated late last night when Secretary of the Interior Work and Reclamation Commissioner Mead were hanged in effigy here.

The disagreement between the valley farmers and officials of the irrigation project, virtually the sole source of moisture for the valley crops, came over payment of operating and maintenance costs of the project. Reclamation Commissioner Mead holds that all past dues must be paid or payment secured by proper notes, while the farmers claim all payments should be deferred until a reclassification, feature of the recent omnibus water bill, providing for downward readjustment of about $23,000,000 on construction and other charges levied against 19 western projects, is made.

Pending a settlement the dammed up waters are stagnant and the growing crops are without water.

Today telegrams of protest from Nebraska leaders were wired to President Coolidge, Secretary Work and Commissioner Mead. Governor McMullen wired that something must be done immediately to save the crops.

The Omaha Bee, a republican newspaper, also sent a telegram to the president and Secretary Work demanding the water be turned on and the payments settled afterwards so as to save a fast wilting beet and alfalfa crop.

The North Plate valley project comprises almost 200,000 acres of land, lying on both sides of the North Platte river, and extending from Lingle, Wyoming, to North Port, Neb.—a region approximately 150 miles long and 20 miles wide formerly used for grazing only, the valley became a blooming garden after the construction of the Pathfinder dam and the reclamation system more than a decade ago.

Mother Braves Flames To Save Her Helpless Son

With the roof of her home in flames Mrs. H. G. Andrews, of 1468 Lucile avenue, early Friday afternoon rescued her eight-year-old son, Grady Andrews who lay seriously ill in a back bed room, and carried him to the safety of a neighbor's home.

Neighbors noticing the home in flames, summored firemen who worked heroically in conquering the blaze, which completely burned away the roof.

H. G. Andrews, an employee of the Georgia Railway and Power company's claim department, reached home soon after the fire had been extinguished. The blaze originated in the rear of the house and when fanned by a strong breeze soon enveloped the roof.

HIGH-TEST BEER REPORTED SOLD ON GERMAN SHIP

Los Angeles, May 28.—(AP)—The Los Angeles Times says that liquor has been sold to visitors aboard the cruiser Hamburg, Germany's first war craft to visit the Pacific coast since 1914.

The newspaper describes W. W. Anderson, assistant prohibition administrator in this district, as reluctantly admitting that federal operatives boarded the vessel two days ago at San Pedro and obtained evidence in the form of bottled beer that tested 4.8 and 4.6 per cent.

Facts in the case have been "forwarded to Washington for instructions," while the beer has been locked in the federal vaults here.

"Our men had no trouble obtaining the beer," Anderson is quoted as having said. "Their only difficulty was to evade the mob that swarmed about the ship's canteen, and to find an officer who would sell to them. This they did, paying $1 a bottle."

The cruiser, a survivor of the battle of Jutland, arrived at San Pedro May 17 on a trip around the world.

COLUMBUS FIRM GETS HYDROELECTRIC BID

Columbus, Ga., May 28.—(AP)—Contract for the construction of a $2,221,000 dam and hydroelectric power plant at Norwood, N. C., has been awarded to a local contracting firm. It is understood that the construction forces will begin at once the assembling of materials and machinery at Norwood preparatory to beginning the work.

The big dam is to be constructed on the Yadkin river.

Senators Start Cloture Petition To Get Bird Vote

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Wearied of the several weeks' discussion on the migratory bird bill, a group of senators started a move late today to invoke the seldom used senate rule limiting debate to an hour for each senator.

The petition for cloture was circulated after renewed efforts to obtain an agreement for a vote next Tuesday had failed. Eighteen senators signed the petition, which was circulated by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, and which may be presented Tuesday unless an agreement for a vote is reached meantime.

After the whole day had been devoted to discussion of the bird bill, Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, urged that the senate proceed to more important measures. He listed farm relief legislation and the federal road bill.

Senator Heflin said the senate was discussing "the wood duck, the teel duck." He added that the duck some senators were most interested in was "the duck that is trying to duck farm legislation."

"If they keep it up," he warned, "there will be more lame ducks around here after the next election than we have seen in quite a long time."

Senator McKellar observed that the senate had "been dilly-dallying here for ten days on a bird bill" and that it should get down to serious business. He urged the invoking of the cloture rule and at the challenge of Senator Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, in charge of the bird measure, started the cloture petition.

SIX PERSONS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Automobile accidents took a toll of six victims in Atlanta Friday, three being victims of "hit-and-run" drivers. None was seriously injured.

Charlie Vlass, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vlass, of 176 Central avenue, was struck down by a speeding automobile driven by a young woman who, after halting for a few seconds, fled the scene. She was described as being a brunette with bobbed hair. The accident occurred at Pulliam street and East Fair, when the youngster attempted to cross the street. The car sped down East Fair street, turned into Pryor and disappeared.

R. A. Lester, whose address was not learned, was the victim of a car driven by an unidentified driver who abandoned his machine and escaped. The car was taken by police. Lester was badly skinned and bruised when the car struck him down at 18 Jeptha street.

E. G. Matthews, 15 Tumlin street, suffered a broken foot when the wheel of a car driven by Miss Ida Londa, of Center Hill, passed over it, according to police. Miss Londa was not detained by police who reported that Matthews apparently was at fault. The accident occurred on Marietta street near Wallace street. Matthews was treated at Grady hospital.

Mrs. D. O. Shannon, 141 West Baker street, and Mrs. M. Hunnicutt, 174 Central avenue, were slightly cut and bruised by flying glass Friday afternoon when the coupe which police reported Mrs. Shannon was driving, struck a telephone pole at the intersection of Atlanta and Cherokee avenues. Neither was seriously injured. When police arrived both women had been taken to their homes.

Police are searching for another "hit-and-run" driver whose machine struck down an aged negress, Nanny Gay, as she attempted to cross Ivy street near Ellis street. She was unconscious when pedestrians carried her into a nearby house for treatment. She asked not to be carried to the hospital and was taken to her home.

DANIELSVILLE SCHOOL CLOSES 1926 SESSION

Danielsville, Ga., May 28.—(Special.)—Tuesday was graduation day at Madison County High school and in many respects the most interesting day in the school's history. Under the leadership of Superintendent L. E. Hemrick and Principal J. B. Maddox, the school in the face of financial distress due to deflation of farm values, boll weevils and severe drouth, has gone forward expanding its curriculum, standardizing its course of study and making for itself a reputation that speaks well, not only for the superintendent and principal, but for the board of trustees and entire teaching force as well.

The graduation exercises consisted of invocation by Colonel C. E. Adams; salutatory, Miss Trudie Lee Jenkins; valedictory, Miss Eliza David; song by senior class, consisting of four boys and twelve girls; delivery of state teachers' certificates by County School Superintendent Mrs. Elmer Fitts, and delivery of diplomas by N. C. Bullock.

Fight on Majority Control

:: LOUISVILLE REBELLION MEETS DEFEAT ::

Ended by Federation Heads

Atlantic City, N. J., May 28.—(AP)—The "Louisville rebellion" against majority control within the General Federation of Women's Clubs was put down officially today by the federation board in an executive meeting. The board unanimously decided that a resolution of the Louisville delegation asking that this policy be rescinded was not an "emergency measure," and therefore could not be considered at this convention.

Mrs. Allee Dickson, of Paris, Ky., state president, opposed the "insurrectionists," asserting their stand did not represent Kentucky sentiment, which, she said, had been expressed in indorsement of the presidential policy as passed last year at the West Baden council. Mrs. B. W. Bayless, of Louisville, state director, also opposed considering the motion which was signed by five members of the Louisville Century club.

Mrs. Sherman Defines Issue.

The point at issue has been defined by Mrs. John D. Sherman, national president, in these words:

"When a resolution has been adopted either unanimously or by a majority, it should be considered the action of the organization. State federations or individual clubs opposed to the action taken should not conduct campaigns in the name of the state or club in opposition to that of the general federation."

Mrs. Gilbert Davis, chairman of the legislation department, characterized the Louisville fracas as a move to secede from the general federation.

The board also voted to abolish the office of corresponding secretary, transferring those duties to the Washington headquarters, authorized appointment of an assistant treasurer, who shall be a salaried officer, and decided that eight department chairmen heretofore elected by the board shall be appointed by the executive committee from nominees named by the state presidents and directors.

All three of these decisions were designated as tending to centralize power in the Washington headquarters and on this ground a previous board meeting had voted down a proposal for abolishing the office of corresponding secretary.

Emergency Measures.

Two resolutions were authorized for introduction as emergency measures. One would urge the United States senate to pass a measure extending the Shepherd-Towner act to two years as it was adopted by the house.

A second resolution regrets discrimination against books in the present postal law and urges congress to grant this class of mail matter the same privileges as periodicals.

The board meeting topped an afternoon filled with last-minute canvassing by supporters of the "fighting resolutions," for the child labor amendment and a federal department of education and with a new agitation, "to do something" about the broadside delivered by Major John Thomas Taylor against women's "antipreparedness propaganda."

Both the "fighting resolutions" were read today, having been lifted out of their natural order, to be introduced at a strategic time.

Southern delegates have said they would oppose from the floor the reaffirmation of enforcement in the child labor measure. South Carolina is expected to lead in this opposition.

ROBINSON URGES BETTER CONTACT IN NAVAL UNITS

Newport, R. I., May 28.—(AP)—More actual contact between the flying and floating personnel of the navy was urged today by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Douglas Robinson in addressing the 63 graduating officers of the naval war college.

"Aviators cannot learn about the operation of the fleet by flying from port to port along the coast, nor can the fleet learn about aviation," he said. "During the past year both sides have learned much by working in conjunction. They must live together, work together, in order to fight together when the time for fighting comes."

Indictments Charge Fraudulent Dealings In Florida Property

Three true bills charging simple larceny were returned Friday by a Fulton county grand jury against Edward Smith, of Dade county, Florida, in connection with an alleged confidence scheme involving the alleged sale of Florida real estate to Atlantans.

Smith, according to attaches in the office of Solicitor General John A. Boykin, sold options on land to Solomon Alhadiff, of 151 Whitehall street; C. O. Bowman, of 256 Whitehall street, and Mrs. M. J. Chafin, giving them in return for cash deposited a signed memorandum of contract for land fronting on Biscayne bay. After the contracts were signed an investigation was conducted and the contracts were declared void, it is stated.

BIG COFFIN NEEDED TO BURY TOM TOM, CIRCUS ATTRACTION

Los Angeles May 28.—(AP)—An order for a coffin four times the average size marked the first step today in preparation for the funeral of Theodore Valenzuela, known in sideshows as Tom Tom.

Valenzuela died yesterday. He weighed 945 pounds and of this weight more than 100 pounds were gained during the last month of his life.

Despite the protests of Valenzuela's family against an autopsy, the coroner has indicated that he will order a post mortem examination.

A mere shorthand SIGN for a word has little practical value unless the sign DEFINITELY implies or expresses the vowels and consonants contained in the word it represents. LEGIBILITY in shorthand is what counts.

For instance, ek might STAND for weak, but it is NOT the word. Likewise oont is NOT wait; isi is NOT eyesight; fas is NOT favors; esutshn is NOT exultation, rse is NOT receive.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE. The CRICHTON outline writes, wak for weak; wat for wait; i-sit for eyesight; favers for favors; ex-ul-tashun for exultation.

The CRICHTON outline either writes or DEFINITELY IMPLIES every vowel and every consonant in above words as indicated.

BEATEN, BUT UNBOWED.

It was a painful "gone feeling" that filled the sporting stomach of Atlanta when the news came through that Bobby Jones, our galloping golfer, had fallen behind the distance flag in the British amateur championship race. He challenged the fortunes of the field and despite the phenomenal brilliance of his general play fate snipped his thread short of the goal.

Not only Atlanta, but all America, will be sympathetic and cheer him as a champion golfer on his record and his superb sportsmanship.

Bobby himself will not repine. He has the youth, the skill and the true golfer's heart that will stand the gaff and go out bravely to beat the game in a future and more sensational contest. Having made the scores that amazed the critical galleries of the British links, having drubbed the cracks of the English-speaking race, and having been acclaimed by the oyster-eyed sport writers of three continents as the possessor of every championship quality, he can patiently bide his time for that coming day when he will stand serene and satisfied on the top of the golf globe.

Atlanta is a city that carries lawful sporting blood. We can go as crazy as any people over our victories, but we are good losers when unlooked for defeat comes our way. Bobby is to the manner born and we warn the golfing world to keep their eyes on that boy!

THE PUBLIC DITCHED.

The Watson-Parker bill that has been approved by the president abolishes the railway labor board and leaves to the railway managers and labor unions the responsibility of getting together and adjusting their mutual interests. They can now agree upon wages and operating costs and then appeal to the interstate commerce commission to fix rates to cover whatever budget of expenses they present to it.

Both factors of the equation having agreed outside the door there will be nothing for the commission inside the door to do but agree to the agreement. The public isn't in it with any right to be consulted or with any power to veto whatever imposition is put upon it. The only hope it can harbor is that the commission will not raise traffic rates to inordinate levels; but to hope for help from that source is to lean upon a rubber staff.

The railway managers are intensively organized for transportation profits; the railway employees are organized to the limit and to the minute for the highest pay they figure worth fighting for; the public thinks it is organized to protect its interests when it has elected and assembled a congress in Washington. But that last "think" is one of the humorous chimeras of American citizenship.

This new measure looks like a breeder of troubles in spite of its aim to render railway strikes unnecessary. So soon as the shipping and purchasing public get the notion that the railway managers and unions have combined to sweat the traffic and divvy the spoils fifty-fifty, there will be rage and revolt against the profiteers and the politicians who have licensed them by this Watson-Parker act.

The west and south both are convinced that much of the distress afflicting producers and consumers is due to the high costs of transportation. They are watching sharply to discover the true balance between their interests and those railway interests that are, in the final accounting, vitally dependent upon the profitableness of the producer's labors and the purchasing power of the consumer's dollar.

The bill may work to everybody's satisfaction, but on first blush it looks like a dangerous experiment.

SCIENCE VS. SALVATION.

The fundamentalists and modernists of the northern Baptist convention have wisely concluded to take their battles back home and fight them out on their own dunghills. Their scrap is an intrachurch affair and they are entitled to settle it without any outside advice or interference. They are a highly sensible communion and can be trusted to reach a pacific conclusion of the controversy.

Those who deplore these ecclesiastical conflicts should not be alarmed by them for the safety of "the faith once delivered to the saints." Friction produces fire, but fire burns only the dross and leaves the gold tested and true.

Fundamentalism stands pat on the revelations in the holy scriptures; modernism claims to follow the revelations by the growing and illuminating sciences of the age. And the sole issue is in the question that Pilate put to Jesus: "What is truth?"

The fundamentalists hold the ancient fortifications while the modernists are assaulting them with newly-forged guns of geology, ethnology, biology, et id omne genus! Their debates and divarication will interest theologs and professional polywogs, but will have diminishing concern with those who see a whole world leprous with wickedness and millions all about us needing to be led into salvation of bodies and spirits.

PICTURING THE SOUTH.

The south is the richest storehouse of literary material that exists on this wonderful planet. That fact is not a new discovery, but it is just becoming a new necessity to the writers of literature, and not only to those of America, but of other countries. Indeed, there is somewhat of a competition on to homestead and work out certain fields of literary riches in the south.

Early colonial histories between the Chesapeake and the Florida peninsula are inviting romantic treatment; the biographies of men who actually achieved the freedom, union and far-flung expansion of the nation; the evolved psychologies of cavalier, semi-puritan, and clannish mountaineer populations; the political pathology that has resulted in a "solid south;" the splendid scenery and the poetry of peaks, rivers, falls, lakes and mysterious marshes; all these, with their ancillary suggestions, are attracting able authors.

The fly in the ointment is that so few of these exploiters of southern literary resources are southerners. After one has named a half dozen native writers, and two-thirds of them women, the list of eminent southern authors of today is exhausted. How to account for that humiliating fact is not easy. It may be due to the lack of encouragement to young genius and industry by the teachers in our schools and colleges. Again, it may be accounted for by the obvious fact that southern presses and southern purchasers will buy only literary goods coming from Boston or New York, marketed by syndicates and specialists. But whatever the reason for our poverty in authors we should be glad that the glories of our history, heroes, traditions and local colors are being treated by experts of any breed and being embalmed in permanent literature.

PREPPING THE PRISONER.

How the criminal in captivity should be treated is one of the "quick" questions that humanitarians, penologists and legislators are constantly debating. That the state prison should be punitive first of all is the doctrine of one school; that it should be operated principally on reformatory lines is the opposing doctrine. That there can be a juste milieu, wherein the professional and case-hardened criminal will be punished as he deserves and the casual and contrite prisoner taught that it does not pay to break the law, and encouraged to go straight when he returns to the outside, is not admitted by either school.

The wisdom of the age is mythical if it cannot take hold of a subject so constant and work out a solution acceptable to the humane and consonant with Christian civilization. The convict lease system cursed the southern states for 50 years. Only two or three of them yet retain it with its incidents of barbarity. The trend is to kill it utterly and substitute methods of isolation with productive occupations. The effects of such reforms are good and corroborate the counsels of Oglethorpe, Beccaria and Sullivan on the subject of convict treatment.

The age of the rack and the galley is gone; the era of the logchain and the lash is on the way out: the better day of dealing with the average convict as a human being and making him work for the wages of his keep, and something for his dependents outside, is coming to be practical and popular.

I Have a Dream.

I.

I have a dream as beautiful
As sunlight on a dear one's hair,
As frail as petal drooping flowers,
Whose glory yields to April showers

II.

Although my shining dream is frail
As star flowers growing in the grass,
It will not die, though my heart break;
The years took much, they did not take
This dream from me—it can not pass.

III.

I do not mind the barren years,
That all my days are passed in shade—
Within my heart there is a light
Whose glow is beautiful and bright;
I have a dream which will not fade.

Briefs From Billville.

We are well aware that this is the plowing and planting time o' year, but it was so long in putting in an appearance that we decided to call it off for this year, and we directed all our efforts to the building up of American literature; and now we've gone too far to turn loose. We'd like to help the farmers by singing about the soil, and watching green and growing things, but since we have discovered that American literature can clothe us and eat us and sleep us and drink us, too—when we can get it—we've decided to give the farmers a chance to manage their own affairs.

The Vision.

To-night—
Even as the last lingering streak of burnished purple
Had vanished from infinite skies
And shadows dimly blended the rays of pale moonlight,
Breathing the incensed mist of later evening,
I wandered to Milycia—Mecca of Nature's haunts—
Rendezvous for meeting imaginary You,
And you were there—sleeping in the moonlight.
Close to your side I stood.

As on the tender verdure you lay,
Engulfed in the blessedness of the moment,
On my knees, bending, I kissed your brow,
Homeward I wandered, and knew
That the sweetness of this vision would be mine Forever.

The Springtime Loafer.

"Some reforms in the interest of loafers should be made in Honey Grove. In the first place, and foremostly, the law against spitting on the sidewalks should be repealed. No loafer can enjoy himself as he should if he must get up, walk two or three steps and crane his neck before ejecting from his mouth the oversupply of amber. Another law that should be enacted in the interest of the loafer is one requiring all stores to keep several goods boxes and nail kegs in front of their places of business at all hours. It isn't fair to make a loafer stand or sit on the hot walk, while discussing politics; besides it's hard on shoes and trouser seats. And by all means, the outrage perpetrated by some in the way of putting spikes or sharp nails on railings or boxes that would make good seats should be abated."

The Thankful Word.

It's a world to thank God for

For its love and its light,
For its laughter and tears;
For the beautiful years,
And the dreams that bring heaven in sight!

SAILORS OF SENECA CLEARED OF CHARGE OF INTOXICATION

New York, May 28.—(AP)—Recent charges of intoxication against members of the crew of the Seneca, Clyde Line steamer, have been declared wholly unfounded by government investigators, officials of the line said yesterday.

DECATUR HIGH SCHOOL TO RAISE FLAG TODAY

Appropriate ceremonies have been planned for the flag-raising exercises of the Decatur Junior High school this morning at 10 o'clock, it was announced Friday. Attorney General George M. Napier will be principal speaker at the exercises. Carl Ramspeck will present the flag on behalf of the Junior Order of Mechanics, which is sponsoring the program.

The all-steel flagpole was a gift to the school by the Decatur chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and was set in place by Sons of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Carl Hudgins will present the pole to the school, which will be accepted by Miss Nell Pattillo, a student of the seventh grade of the Junior High school. Students who have ranked highest in scholastic standing during the past term will have their part in the program by raising the flag to its highest position on the pole.

MERCURY GOING UP AGAIN, IS FORECAST

Atlanta had a slight respite from the hot weather this week, Friday, when the thermometer dropped to 77 degrees for the maximum, but the mercury is scheduled to begin another climb today and go as high as 82 degress, C. F. von Herrman, local meteorologist predicted Friday night. The minimum temperature will be 63 degrees, the same as Friday's lowest, he said.

While the weather man promised a day that would be fair most of the time, he said that it would be slightly cloudy about noon. No rain will fall and after the clouds of the morning pass away the mercury will begin to mount, it is predicted.

Light showers of rain fell in many parts of the city Friday, lessening the midsummer heat of the day before. The rain was too light for record at the weather bureau and the day was billed as "partly cloudy."

LIGHTS OF NEW YORK

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

New York, May 28.—Two more weeks and these lights will switch from the sidewalks of New York to the phosphorescent waves of the Atlantic and thence to the boulevards of Paris, the avenues of Berlin, the bazaars of Cairo, the roofs of Jerusalem and the minarets of Constantinople. And after gazing upon these foreign sights for a few weeks we will come back again to home brew, the Metropolitan opera, the library lions and Mayor Jimmy Walker.

Broadway has the spirit of the universe. It has beautiful women like ancient Hellas; athletes as muscled and proud as the gladiators of Rome; cocottes as alluring as Paris; more oddly dressed people than Montmartre; citizens more pompous and dignified than old Berlin; more umbrella carriers than you can see any day in Piccadilly Circus. It has rosy-tinted dansants; lightning ham and egg joints; beggars, millionaires; all the nations of the earth; all the types of humanity, all the woes of Moscow, and all the sordidness of ancient Babylon. It packs all mankind in a two square miles parcel along with history.

Dunc Campbell, the newspaper editor' quit his job the other day and moved over to Fifth avenue. He has become a designer of Paris gowns at a salary of $30,000 per. "It's not only more remunerative than headline writing," he told me, "but what with a dozen smart little models doing their stuff before your eyes, it's more congenial to my nature."

As in the front line in France where they never faltered and many established a reputation for great heroism, New York's priests are never backward in entering burning buildings and bringing spiritual consolation to people half burned to a crisp. Nearly every fire account in the papers the last few weeks has given such a story of a priest's heroism.

When I passed a factory under construction the other day on West Forty-Ninth street, there was a terrific crash and a few moments afterwards workmen were streaming out wild-eyed with terror and haggard of fright. Two fellows had been pinned beneath falling steel girders. There was a danger of further collapse of the building. Somebody had gone for a priest. He came. And that fellow walked into the danger spot with such coolness and sangfroid before even the wrecking gang of the fire department dared enter that everybody would have cheered had the occasion not been so tragic.

Amateurs' night in the neighborhood playhouses brings the ruffians and drug store corner gangs out en masse. When they see a performer they know, he or she is greeted with shouts, cries, cheers or jeers. Often they resort to pelting the stage with pennies or carrots and other fruit. In the East Side the affair generally breaks up into a fight. Hence police reserves are always on duty on Friday nights and because of the possible liveliness, the shows are jammed to capacity.

VIADUCT POSITION EXPLAINED BY GRANT

John W. Grant, as owner of the Kimball House property, draws attention to an apparent error in a story published in The Constitution of Friday, in which he is quoted as saying that "the tenants and not the owners of the property would be damaged during the construction period and possibly later," referring to the "twin viaducts" over tracks at Pryor street and Central avenue. Mr. Grant, in a letter to The Constitution, says he does not wish to be put in the attitude of waiving any damages to which he may justly be entitled and adds his belief that "the Kimball House property will be seriously damaged unless the plans are modified."

Owing to a mechanical error in the printing of the story on Friday, it gave an erroneous and unintended impression to the reader.

Mr. Grant's letter is as follows:

"Editor Constitution: The interview with me published in this morning's Constitution is inaccurate in some particulars and I therefore ask that you give equal prominence to this letter, the purpose of which is to correct a wrong impression which the publication of the interview may make.

"I did state to your reporter that I was in no way responsible directly or indirectly for the attempts of Messrs. Maynard and Jacobs, lessees of the Kimball House, through their operating company, to invalidate the recent city bond issue and while I did not wish to be put in the attitude of criticising them, I regretted their action.

"I further stated that while I was in favor of the general proposition of viaducts or plaza, that I was not satisfied with the present plans, that I thought the railroad tracks should be lowered so as to secure better grades on the proposed viaducts and that I would insist upon the upper level of Wall street along the Kimball House property being a full width street instead of a mere walkway as now contemplated.

"The error I wish to correct is the statement that "the tenants and not the owners of the property would be damaged during the construction period and possibly later." I did say that tenants had a better claim for damages than landlords, as the city would claim landlords were benefited, whereas no such claim could be made against tenants.

"I do not wish to be put in the attitude of waiving any damages to which we may justly be entitled and believe that the Kimball House property will be seriously damaged unless the plans are modified.

"JOHN W. GRANT."

Duggan Arrives In Havana, Cuba, On Long Flight

Havana, May 28.—(AP)—Bernardo Duggan, Argentine sportsman, and his two companions, Eduardo and Olivero, traveling by seaplane from New York to Buenos Aires, arrived at Havana this morning from Miami, Fla. After the aviators' noisy welcome by the crowds out to meet them, and a formal greeting by representatives of the president, the army, navy and diplomatic corps, they proceeded to a luncheon given in their honor by the Argentine minister.

This afternoon the fliers paid a visit to the secretary of state, Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, who gave them a letter to be delivered to the Cuban minister at Buenos Aires.

The plane took off at Miami at 6:32 a. m., and after a flight in clear weather, arrived over Havana at 9:50.

Duggan said that if the weather permits he will leave on the next lap of the journey early tomorrow, expecting to make Guantanamo in six hours.

JAMES W. COLLEY DIES AT WARM SPRINGS

Grantville, Ga., May 28.—(Special.) James W. Colley, prominent young business man of this town, died at Warm Springs Tuesday, where he had been for the past six weeks hoping that the baths there might restore his health.

He graduated from the Culver Summer Naval academy, Culver, Ind., before graduating at the Georgia Military academy, where he won the medal for the best-drilled cadet. He was a member of the well-known firm of Colley Bros., who do a large banking and general merchandise business here.

He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Lillian Henderson, of Monticello, Fla.; his mother, Mrs. S. E. Leigh, and two brothers, Charles Stewart Colley, of Grantville, and Thomas Nelson Colley, of Elberton.

The funeral services were held from the Methodist church here, Rev. Kelley, his former pastor; Rev. Turner, present pastor of the church; Rev. James, retired minister, and Rev. Stewart, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. Interment was in the cemetery here.

POSTOFFICE OFFICIAL IS ENTERTAINED HERE

W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general of the United States, a visitor in Atlanta, will remain here until noon today, when he leaves for Florida.

Friday night Mr. Glover was guest of honor of the Presidents' club, at their banquet given at the Biltmore hotel and at noon Friday he was entertained at luncheon by John K. Ottley and a group of prominent citizens at the Capital City club. Present at the luncheon was the committee on the new federal building proposal, which includes Mr. Ottley as chairman; Frank Neely, general manager of M. Rich & Bros. Co., and Fred Wilson.

Mr. Glover is inspecting proposed sites for air mail landing fields in a number of cities. He has recently been in New Orleans and expects to suggest a route for an air mail service between Atlanta and that city, avoiding certain mountains that obstruct parts of the route.

Mr. Glover said that he expected to see a big development in aerial passenger service between Atlatna and other cities in the near future. Atlanta has already been designated as an official port of call of the air mail service and the first mail service between this city and Miami and other Florida points is scheduled to start this year. Originally set for June 1, the inauguration of the service has been postponed to August, because of certain conditions in the the aviation company which has undertaken the contract.

Mr. Glover pointed out, however, that it would be financially disastrous for any commercial aviation company to depend upon the mails alone for their revenue and it is expected that a large part of the revenue for the planes will come from passengers. Mr. Glover expressed himself as entirely satisfied with Candler field, the official port of call for the Atlanta mail planes.

Mr. Glover, who arrived at the Terminal station shortly before noon, was met by Postmaster E. K. Large, of Atlanta; R. J. Harris, chief of the railway mail service here, and Clyde Fleming, acting chief postal inspector for this district and other officials. As second assistant postmaster general, Mr. Glover is in charge of the railway mail service.

While the visiting official was not here directly in connection with the proposal for a new federal building for Atlanta, it was expected that he would look over the situation and add his observations to the data on the proposal.

Cooksie Is Guilty Of Selling House He Did Not Own

Will Cooksie was found guilty Friday of simple larceny when arraigned before Judge Jesse M. Wood in the criminal court of Atlanta, and was sentenced to serve 12 months on the chaingang.

The defendant was bound over to the criminal court on May 15 under a $1,000 bound on charges of simple larceny by Judge Luther Z. Rosser, chief judge of the municipal court.

According to evidence in the case Cooksie went to the city hall and obtained a permit to tear down a residence located at 29 Walker street, which he claimed was the property of the Southeastern Express company.

When an agent of a local trust company, who was handling the property for Mrs. S. P. Bergstrom, proprietor, passed the location one day, to his surprise the home had been torn down and all materials moved. Following an investigation it is alleged that Cooksie had obtained a permit to tear down the structure and had sold the materials.

Attorney Claude Brackett represented the defendant and Mrs. Bergstrom was represented by Attorney Hery A. Newman and Carlton Binns, assistant solicitor.

AGRICULTURE UNIT OF STATE COLLEGE SHOWS BIG GROWTH

The Georgia State College of Agriculture at Athens has grown in value from $110,000 originally provided for the school 20 years ago by the legislature to a value of approximately $1,500,000, according to a report submitted to Governor Walker Friday by Sam J. Slate, state auditor. The revenue of the college farm has been used largely in providing new buildings and improving the grounds of the institution.

At present the college has six large modern buildings all well equipped. The auditor commended the president and faculty of the institution for the marvelous growth and development. Dr. A. M. Soule is president of the college. The institution now ranks among the best agricultural colleges in the country, it was stated.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WM. BRADY, M. D.

SHALL YOUR CHILDREN HAVE DIPHTHERIA?

Here and there still lives a parent who believes it is a good thing to expose children to certain diseases, such as measles, mumps or whooping cough, in order that the children may "have it over with" while they are young. This isn't criminal ignorance though it should be so considered. Whoever advises or practices such mistreatment should be punished, especially when the child is maimed by or succumbs to the disease.

The time is coming soon if it is not already here when parents must be held accountable for failing to provide due and proper protection to children against the menace of diphtheria.

Children in the rural part of the country are more susceptible to diphtheria than children in the towns or cities are, at least children of school age. Among the younger children, not yet old enough to attend school, there is little difference in susceptibility or immunity to diphtheria, according to the available statistics. The school children in towns and cities seem to acquire a certain degree of immunity through more frequent exposure to infection. In large cities the majority of school children are found to be immune—that is, they have no reaction to the Schick test. In the country the majority of the school children react positively to the Schick test, which indicates they are not immune. It might seem strange that the country school children are more vulnerable or more susceptible to diphtheria than the city school children are, if one did not know that immunity (call it "resistance" if you like) is always a specific process due to the specific germ of the disease in question, and never so far as we know a state dependent on general hygienic factors. It is not so difficult to understand this in reference to diphtheria as it is in reference to to some other respiratory infections which reactionary and unscientific people insist on calling "colds."

Probably more than two million children in New York state have been immunized against diphtheria by means of the toxin antitoxin treatment, and not a single serious accident or untoward result has occurred in all of these cases.

Some physicians have an unwarranted fear of the possible untoward effect of any kind of serum, if such serum should be necessary for a child who has received toxin antitoxin immunization at an earlier age. Dr. William H. Park, New York, perhaps the foremost authority in the country upon such matters, assures us that there is nothing to worry about on that score. He finds that injections of antitoxin do unquestionably produce a definite sensitization, but that this sensitization does not make subsequent injections of serum dangerous. The sensitized individual may experience much discomfort from a brief attack of hives and an accompanying feverish state for a day or two, but that is the worst effect to be anticipated when serum is administered long after antitoxin or toxin antitoxin in any case. I am glad to have such assurance from the highest authority about this, for many parents have submitted questions which indicate that they have felt some anxiety concerning the fancied danger. Dr. Park compared the records of 50 children who received a serum from one to three years after toxin antitoxin treatment, with the records of 50 children who received a serum and had never before had any such treatment. The two groups showed practically no differences in their reactions.

Have the little children immunized now, if Schick says they need it.

Southern Singer From Camp Meets In Metropolitan

Joseph H. Macpherson, of Nashville, Tenn., has been engaged by the Metropolitan Opera company, according to advices from Nashville received in Atlanta Friday.

Mr. Macpherson, bass baritone, is the only one out of 450 aspirants for operatic fame, who has won the coveted prize of a Metropolitan engagement after an audience before Signor Gatti Casazza, impresario, this year. Added interest to Atlanta lies in the fact that it was during the local opera week in April last that the Tennessee boy proved his worth before Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the board of the Metropolitan, and Edward Ziegler, assistant to Signor Gatti Casazza.

Young Macpherson, a raw-boned son of a country preacher in Tennessee, is a pupil of Signor G. S. DeLuca, a voice teacher of Nashville. Signor DeLuca heard the boy singing in a campmeeting and, impressed with the marvelous power and tone of his voice, taught him for three years. One year ago Signor De Luca took his pupil to New York, seeking a Metropolitan audition, but failed to secure it. This year, hearing that Mr. Kahn would be in Atlanta during grand opera week De Luca seized the opportunity. With introductions to the famous financier and patron of opera, the teacher and the singer came to Atlanta and sought their great opportunity.

CARAVANS AT REST IN ATLANTA 'OASIS'

Nobles of Yaarab Temple will be busy today entertaining two caravans of Shriners which will stop off in this "oasis" on their way to the Imperial Council meeting in Philadelphia

Jerusalem temple of New Orleans and El Maida temple of El Paso arrive at the Terminal station at 7:40 this morning, and will be met by Potentate Tom Law and a host of nobles with automobiles. The El Paso caravan will leave at 12:30 this afternoon, but the New Orleans caravan will tarry here until midnight.

Entertainment features are automobile rides, golf for those who wish to indulge in that pastime, luncheon at the Druid Hills Golf club, dinner at the Capital City club, and a special program at the home of Noble Asa G. Candler, Jr., Yaarab's chief of staff.

Late Friday Yaarab nobles entertained the caravan of Karem temple, from Waco, Texas, which stopped off here from 3:10 to 7 P. M. Potentate Law engaged several of the big coaches of the power company and carried the visitors to Stone Mountain and entertained them at dinner before the departure of their train.

Friday night the regular dance given by Yaarab's dance committee was held at the Capital City club. Tomorrow at noon Yaarab's caravan will leave the Terminal station in two big special trains for the Imperial Council meeting. No stops will be made, and the caravan is due to arrive in Philadelphia at 10 a. m. Monday. Noble Jere Beam, chairman of the transportation committee, has issued a last call to all nobles who desire to join the caravan to get their tickets at the Southern ticket office, in the Grant building this afternoon.

ART BODY NAMES PAYNE PRESIDENT FOR COMING YEAR

J. Carroll Payne has been elected president of the Atlanta Art association at the May meeting held at the Fourth National bank. George Elmer Browne, noted American painter, was the principal speaker at the meeting.

SCHOOL PATRONS APPROVE SUTTON'S EXPANSION PLAN

Members of city council, Parent-Teacher association heads, and civic club leaders Thursday approved the proposed building program of the Atlanta school department after Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, outlined details at a special meeting at Walker Street school.

Dr. R. M. Eubanks, president of the board of education, was high in his praise of administrative officials for their comprehensive survey of conditions, and asked the public to withhold any opinion regarding proposed distribution of the $3,500,000 school fund, allocated from the $8,000,000 municipal bond issue, until full details are explained.

Contemplated improvements include establishment of two more junior high schools, two new grammar schools, extension of Henry Grady Junior high school for boys and annexes or improvements to 45 other grammer schools.

ILLINOIS INSURANCE CONCERN TO LIQUIDATE

Notice was received at the state insurance department Friday that the Integrity Mutual Casualty company, of Illinois, has voluntarily asked the Illinois insurance department to take charge of the assets of the company and to liquidate its affairs. The company last year collected $54,000 in premiums and paid out $31,800 in losses, it was stated. The board of directors of the company recently voted to cease business and asked the Illinois insurance department to liquidate the company.

SEARS, ROEBUCK PLANS AUTO STORE

Because of pressing demands of customers for automobile tires and automotive supplies Sears-Roebuck & Co. of Chicago have leased temporary quarters for this department of their business in Atlanta at 233-235 Peachtree street and will begin immediately to fill orders from this store until the huge new southeastern distributing branch of that company on Ponce de Leon is completed, it was announced Friday by C. M. Kittle, president of the company.

Mr. Kittle made this announcement in Chicago and declared that the company found it necessary to lease quarters in the heart of Atlanta's automobile district to take care of its automobile tire and automotive supply business in the southeast.

"So many of our customers are in immediate need of this class of merchandise that we have decided to open this branch of our business in Atlanta June 1 rather than wait until our big Atlanta building is finished," Mr. Kittle said. He added that customers of the company have been advised in the semi-annual catalog of the Sears-Roebuck & Co. of the opening of the automobile supply store in Atlanta.

Discussing progress being made in construction work of the huge Sears-Roebuck store on Ponce de Leon avenue, Br. Kittle declared that a record is being made in rapidity with which the new building is being constructed.

"I am informed that never before in Atlanta's building history has any building operation approaching this magnitude been pushed forward with such rapidity," he said.

Nearly 200 Atlanta people are now taking a course of instruction at Sears-Roebuck stores in Chicago, Philadelphia and Dallas, so that the entire organization which will handle the $3,000,000 Atlanta store will be able to take care of the immense volume of business from the day the store is opened. Mr. Kittle said the company heartily appreciates cooperation received from Atlanta people in finishing the new enterprise.

STATE PRESS MEETS NEXT AT LOUISVILLE

Athens, Ga., May 28.—(Special.)—The Eighth and Ninth District Press associations met in the Athens Y. M. C. A. Friday, elected officers, listened to several speakers and were entertained by a luncheon given by the Athens Chamber of Commerce.

The luncheon was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. A piano number was rendered by Miss Virgie Strickland, of Buford, and Miss Grace Power, of Buford, gave a reading. Mayor Dudley, of Athens, welcomed the editors in the name of the city. He declared that Athens and northeast Georgia now needed able leadership as it never had before, but that he was confident that the people of this section would respond nobly to the demand. The response was delivered by Mr. McWhorter, of The Ind.r News.

The editor of The Echo, of Lexington, W. A. Shackelford, read a comprehensive paper on "Rural Correspondents." He said that he felt sure that his success in holding rural correspondents might be traced to the fact that he seldom used the blue pencil on their copy. He said that everyone wished to see their name in the paper.

The president of the state press association, Ernest Camp, of Monroe, asked the members of the association to consider plans for attending the press camp at Tallulah Falls. He also announced that the next meeting of the state association would be held at Louisville. He reminded the gathering that they should be proud of the achievement of The Enquirer-Sun, of Columbus, in wining the Pulitzer prize for the most meritorious paper.

The registrar of the University of Georgia, T. W. Reed, spoke on his reminiscences as a newspaper man. The service that the editor of the weekly may be to his community was the subject of a talk delivered by Abit Nix, of Athens. The editor of The Commerce News, John Shannon, said that many of the dailies of Georgia kept quiet when matters of great matter should be considered, often, he said, he saw news in many of the dailies of Georgia that made him shudder and feel disgusted.

Dr. Andrew M. Soule, of the State College of Agriculture, delivered a valuable lecture on "How the press may help in a constructive farm program."

The officers for the eighth and ninth districts elected for next year are the same officers as last year, E. A. Caldwell, of Monroe, president, and Jack Majors, of Buford, secretary.

Peachtree Creek Bridge Contract May Be Awarded Soon To Speed Up Work

Fulton Commission Chairman Given Power To Act On Bridge Matter; Many Bids Received.

Opening of bids to supply Fulton county with construction material of approximately $200,000 value to be used in projects during the ensuing year and the referring of the award for construction of a bridge over Peachtree creek, on North Side drive, to the chairman with power to act featured a called meeting Friday afternoon of the public works committee of the Fulton commission.

In referring the matter of the award for construction of the Peachtree creek bridge to the chairman of the committee, members of the board stressed the point that if necessary finances could be arranged the contract would be awarded immediately. The project will entail the expenditure of approxmately $30,000, it is stated.

The material on which the bids were asked include cement, stone, slag, gravel, lubricating oil and other construction supplies. After bids were opened they were ordered tabulated and reported at the next meeting of the board the second Wednesday in June, at which time awards will be made. More than 20 bids were received.

The opening of the bridge will be the connecting link of a main thoroughfare throughout the north side from Piedmont road across the Chattahoochee river into adjoining counties.

The meeting was presided over by Chairman Edwin F. Johnson.

ATLANTA BUSINESS SHOWS PROSPERITY

Manufacturers Are Interested.

Mr. Allen said the "Advertise Atlanta" committee has concentrated its work in attracting interest of manufacturers who operate two or more plants throughout the country.

"These industries come here and rent offices and warehouses, bring their own employees to Atlanta, provide additional pay rolls and bring deposits for banks; they do not depend on local financing and do not endeavor to float their stock locally. They are the industries we are seeking, and we have promise of fine success. We are now in actual correspondence with 1,000 industries of this kind."

Bank Clearings Increase.

May bank clearings up to this date have exceeded the total for the whole month of April by more than $300,000,000.

April's clearings were reported at $291.117,668.48; up until and including Friday, $519,749,885.80 has been cleared by Atlanta banks during May.

Bank clearings in May for the first week amounted to $162,541,280.87; the second week, $262.538.131.76; the third week, $59,655,812. For the five days of this week, clearings have been as follows: Monday, $12,600.646.49; Tuesday, $6,762,406.03; Wednesday, $9,578,850.91; Thursday, $7,817,954.44, and Friday, $8,254.803.30.

If clearings for the remaining three business days of the month strike an average of as much as $8,000,000 a day, which would not be unusual, clearings for May will be almost $600,000,000.

Building Permits Pass 1925.

Atlanta building permits Friday passed by $1,011.545 those of the entire year of 1925, when the total for the first four months of this year and 27 days of the month struck a total of $11.415,103 as compared with $10,403,558 for the 12 months of 1925.

"This total indicated that building activity in Atlanta was at least 100 per cent better than it was last year and presaged progress which is destined to rival any similar sound and safe building activity in the history of the south," said C. J. Bowen, city building inspector and close student of building activities of the entire south for the past several years.

"Tabulations of permits issued through Thursday of this week run May's total for this period to $2,095,417—or $795,059 over the entire month of May, 1925, which hit $1,300,358.

"Atlanta building activity is livelier and more sound than it has been since I have been connected with construction activities of the city and I feel that we are just on the verge of an even greater era of prosperity."

Population Jumps by Thousands.

Atlanta's population has increased several thousand since the first of January last, according to records in the postoffice. Since that time 949 more new residence addresses have been filed here than have been withdrawn. Inasmuch as experience has shown that each new address filed with the postoffice represents between two and three individuals, newcomers to the city, this means that the population has gained between two and three thousand souls during the four-month period.

General business conditions in Atlanta are excellent, according to David H. Strauss, vice president of M. Rich & Brothers company. General prosperity is reflected more sensitively, perhaps in the records of a large department store than in any other barometer, Mr. Strauss pointed out, and, were it possible to show the daily reports of all departments of the big Rich store, he declared, no one would have any doubt that Atlanta generally is in a highly satisfactory business condition.

Atlanta's preeminence as a trading center, together with the prosperity of her own citizens, is given as a reason for the splendid business enjoyed by the local retail merchandising establishments.

Officials of various business organizations in the city reflected Mr. Strauss' views and provided that there is no unexpected development during the next month or two, it is practically certain that Atlanta business is facing one of the greatest periods of growth and prosperity in its history.

"Every indication," said Mr. Strauss, "points not only to a continuance of the magnificent business we are now enjoying, but to a steady enhancement. Atlanta is growing all the time, not only in numbers and in industrial importance, but in general prosperity and in the well being of her citizens."

Nashville, Tenn., May 28.—(AP)—Federal prohibition officers returning today from a raid in Hickman county Thursday, reported the arrest at Nunnelly of Charles Hickman, who claimed to be 106 years old, and was quoted by the officers as saying he had been dealing in contraband liquor since he was 16 years old.

SPLIT IGNORED BY PRESBYTERIANS

other ordained officer is acknowledged and fellowship extended to him, even though he may hold some views that are individual on points not regarded as essential to the system of faith which the church professes. . . . The liberty which toleration allows is not to be judged finally by individuals. It is freedom with boundaries and these boundaries are fixed by constitutional authority."

Again referring to schisms in the past, the report discussed the need of elaboration of the authority of the general assembly as follows:

"One of the most important questions to be considered is the relative powers of the general assembly and of the presbytery as regards matters over which the presbytery has original jurisdiction. The rights of the presbyteries and the limits of their independency is a question that has been involved in at least two of the historic divisions of the Presbyterian church. The responsibilities of the presbyteries in licensing and ordaining candidates for the ministry run down and root themselves in the broader principle of the relation between presbytery and assembly and by the full discharge by each body of its constitutional functions."

New York Presbytery.

This phase of the report was thought to refer to a question which will come before the assembly at this session when it will be determined whether the New York presbytery is to be disciplined for licensing ministers against whom it had been complained that they did not subscribe to the essential and necessary articles of faith."

The committee reported that this subject required such deep study that it requested another year of continuation to prepare a detailed report.

Seeking the causes which have led to the present unrest in the church, the conclusions were reached that "we believe that Christian character and faith have not deteriorated." This was qualified later with the following statement:

"At the same time we believe that the church, while grateful for its inheritance, realizes how far short we come of the ideal of the New Testament."

CROWN PRINCE GIVEN CONFEDERATE COIN

New York, May 28.—(AP)—The first gift of Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden in the United States was a Confederate memorial half dollar.

The coin was presented the crown prince on the steps of the city hall here yesterday by Justice William Harmon Black, executive chairman of the New York city coin sale campaign, after the introduction of the prince to Mayor Walker.

The prince expressed a desire to learn more of the memorial and was given literature explaining it. He said he would cherish the coin as a souvenir of his first day in America.

NO TRACE FOUND OF WOMAN PASTOR

Los Angeles, May 28.—(AP)—The end of the tenth day since the disappearance at the beach of Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist and self-proclaimed healer of Angelus Temple, still found no sign of a body cast up on the shore to support her followers' theory of drowning and no definite action by police, sheriff or district attorney's office to set at rest the myriad of rumors connected with the mystery.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Mrs. McPherson, who has offered a reward of $25,000 for the return alive of the missing evangelist, turned over to the police a letter signed "XXWW and IWWV" typed on the back of a photograph and demanding $50,000 for the return of Mrs. McPherson.

"Send $50,000 and she is yours," the missive said, adding directions for delivery of the cash. It closed with "mum's the word—keep police away."

Officers said they were of the opinion the letter was either a hoax or the work of a crank with no knowledge of Mrs. McPherson's whereabouts.

Divided in Two Camps.

The entire Los Angeles district appears to be diveded into two definite camps on the subject, one, composed principally of her followers, contending that Mrs. McPherson went to her death in the Santa Monica surf. The other faction, numerous and voluble, offers a multitude of theorie in support of its argument that the evangelist still is alive.

Today Captain A. B. Loraine, of Venice made an affidavit for the police that he was present on the beach at the point and time Mrs. McPherson disappeared and that no person was swimming there.

This is a flat contradiction of the statement of Miss Emma Schaeffer, the evangelist's secretary, who accompanied her employer to the beach and who made a belated report to the police of the disappearance. Miss Schaeffer said that Mrs. McPherson entered the water early in the afternoon, came out and went in again, after which she disappeared. Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple and friend of Mrs. McPherson, who was questioned by police yesterday and who threw no light on the mystery, today checked out of the Los Angeles hotel at which he had registered. He left no forwarding address, but it was presumed he had returned to San Francisco where his parents live.

Reports from San Francisco that a state detective had recognized Mrs. McPherson there last night caused a sensation here.

The San Francisco call quoted the detective as saying he had seen the evangelist being driven away from a railroad station in a motor car without a licenses tag.

ROW BREAKS OUT IN TRADE BOARD

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—A row in the federal trade commission over creation of a division of trade practice conferences came out in the open today in the form of a joint statement from Commissioners Thompson and Nugent asserting their dissent and saying that application of administration economy programs by the commission's majority "is a fearful and wonderful thing."

"If the commission continues to create new divisions as frequently as it has during the past year, placing at the head of such division chiefs and assistant chiefs, it will not be long before there will be a chief and assistant chief for every dozen subordinate employes," the statement declared.

The two commissioners also reviewed the dispute over establishment of a Seattle branch office last October, on motion of Commissioner Humphrey who is from Washington, and over the contention of the minority that the branch should be located at Kansas City, Mo., or New Orleans. They also revealed that an outside attorney had been designated in charge of the Seattle office at a salary of $5,200 a year over the protest of Commissioner Nugent.

MRS. JANES TO HEAD NEW WOMAN'S REVIEW

Mrs. Mary E. Janes, of Sylvan Hills, was elected commander of the newly organized Sunshine Review, of the Woman's Benefit association, Friday night. A rally was staged at the Ansley hotel Thursday and Friday, ending Friday night with appointment of officers. The association is one of the oldest woman's organizations in the United States, and one of the few to which women only may belong it is said. There are five reviews in Atlanta.

Other officers named are Miss Annie Partee, lieutenant commander; Mrs. Emily Shaw, record keeper; Mrs. Elizabeth Coleman, chaplain; Mrs. Ollie Stocks, sergeant; Mrs. Margueritte Rolison, picket; Mrs. Bessie Hardy, collector; Miss Christine Hussey, Mrs. Agnes Jette and Mrs. Susie Montgomery, color bearers.

In the neighborhood of 100 women attended the rally which was said to be one of the most successful in the history of the organization. A number of addresses were delivered by members of the association at various meetings during Thursday and Friday, in addition to general discussions of business matters.

Swedish Prince and Princess

:: ATTEND ERICSSON UNVEILING TODAY ::

Dinner Guests of President

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The crown prince and princess of Sweden were kept on the move throughout the first full day of their visit to the capital by a continuous round of activities which gave them an insight into social, political and scientific phases of American life.

After breakfast at the Swedish legation they went to the national museum, then to the capitol to watch congress function. They were luncheon guests at the British embassy, visited the bureau of standards during the afternoon and late in the day attended a reception given in their honor by John Hays Hammond. Tonight they were guests at a white house dinner.

Unveil Memorial Today.

Today's schedule left the prince and his consort tired but enthusiastically waiting for tomorrow's events, which will culminate in the unveiling of the memorial to John Ericsson, designer of the monitor of civil war fame. It was chiefly to attend this ceremony, at which President Coolidge will deliver an address, that they came to the United States.

At the national museum the royal couple bent studiously over glass cases filled with curios, ranging from American, Mexican and European antiquities, sandstone slabs marked by fossil footprints, to gigantic skeletons of prehistoric reptiles, mastodons and numerous paleontological specimens.

"What a pity!" the prince said as his escorts finally persuaded him to leave the museum. He was reluctant to go without seeing more of its wonders, which were of particular interest to him because of his own archaeological researches.

Visits Anthropologist.

While viewing the exhibits at the museum, the prince recalled that he once, on a scientific exploration trip in Europe, had met Dr. William Henry Holmes, an anthropologist and director of the National Gallery of Art. He insisted that he be taken to the doctor's office, and there he conversed with him eagerly for a while.

At the capitol the prince and his party were met by Vice President Dawes; Chairman Borah, of the senate foreign relations committee; Senators Swanson, of Virginia, and Edge, of New Jersey, members of the committee, and by Chairman Porter, of the house foreign affairs committee.

The opening of the senate session was observed from the diplomatic gallery, but the visitors departed before any business was transacted.

By direction of President Coolidge, the executive gallery of the house was opened to the prince and princess, and as Speaker Longworth escorted them to seats members of the floor stood, joining in the applause of the occupants of the other galleries.

Delayed by German Fogs,

:: PLANS TO TAKE TRAIN FOR CHINA ::

Goldstrom Lands in Moscow

Moscow, May 28.—(Special.)—John Goldstrom arrived here last night after being delayed by fog in Germany for almost a day. In spite of this upset in his plans, his arrival here set a new record of less than eight days for travel from New York to Moscow. He will leave at 10 o'clock tonight for Mukden or Harbin, via the Trans-Siberian railway. He hopes to secure a Japanese plane at the end of the rail journey, to carry him to Yokohama where he will take the steamship "President Madison" for Victoria.

Goldstrom's arrival at Moscow in less than eight days puts him well ahead of other world-circulars. John Henry Mears, holder of the present record which Goldstrom is attempting to break, made the trip from New York to Moscow in 9 days, 14 hours and 50 minutes. Nellie Bly, who established the first record of seventy-two days, required nine days to cross the Atlantic. Henry Frederick, who set the next record in 1903, was twelve days out at Moscow. Col. Burnley Campbell who established the third record in 1907 started from Liverpool and traveled westward, his time from Liverpool to Quebec and from Moscow to Dover totalling 12 days. Andre Jager-Schmidt, who set a record for the New York World and Paris Daily in 1911, required 11 days for the trips par to Moscow and from New York to Paris. Goldstrom has ten days to cross Siberia and fly to Yokohama, a jump of about 6,000 miles. The President Madison sails on June 7. He has covered about 5,000 miles in the past eight days, averaging almost a hundred miles a day more than is necessary to complete his circuit in the record time of 35 days.

DAUGHTER OF MELLON TO BE MARRIED TODAY

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The most brilliant wedding of the season here will take place tomorrow when Miss Ailsa Mellon, daughter of the secretary of the treasury, becomes the wife of David Kirkpatrick Este Bruce, son of the Maryland senator.

President and Mrs. Coolidge and other prominent personages will attend both the wedding at noon in Bethlehem chapel of Washington cathedral and a reception afterward at the Pan-American union. Two hundred guests have been invited to the ceremony, while eight thousand invitations have been issued for the reception.

The marriage ceremony will be performed by Bishop James E. Freeman, assisted by Dr. Hugh Birckhead, of Baltimore. Miss Mellon will be attended by Miss Cragie McKay, of Pittsburgh, as maid of honor, and James Bruce, of Baltimore, will be his brother's best man.

Mr. Bruce has entered the foreign service of the government and after the wedding he and his bride will proceed to Rome, where he will be stationed as vice consul.

New Evidence Found in Triple Bomb Murders

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Muskegon, Mich., May 28.—Officials of Muskegon county today discovered circumstantial evidence which they declare involves Asa K. Bartlett, a minor political figure in Blue Lake township, in the mailing of a bomb which exploded in the Three Lakes tavern on Thursday and caused the death of a young woman, her father and her fiance.

Bartlett, who is under arrest, is a strong prohibitionist, a Klansman and said to be an enemy of August Krubaech, proprietor of the tavern and a township supervisior. Krubaech was instantly killed in the explosion. His prospective son-in-law, William Franke, of Chicago, died a few hours later. Janet Krubaech, who was to have become a bride tomorrow, lingered in agony until this morning. Both her eyes were destroyed by the blast.

Most significant of the clues in the hands of Prosecutor R. Glenn Dunn, it is said, is an old-fashioned rifle found in the home of Bartlett soon after he was placed under arrest. The trigger is missing and the officials point out that a trigger which fits the rifle was imbedded in the body of Krubaech.

In a country store, about 15 miles from Muskegon, it was reported that Bartlett had purchased a quantity of stickers similar to the one used in the mailing of the bomb, only a few days ago.

Although Bartlett declared that he carried his enmity for Krubaech no further than to work against him at the polls. Prosecutor Dunn declared that he had made important admissions. The prisoner is being held incommunicado in the Muskegon county jail and is being constantly grilled.

The package containing the infernal machine was addressed to Krubaech. This caused the authorities to abandon any theory that the deaths of the three persons was due to a desire of a disappointed lover of Miss Krubaech to get revenge.

The return address on the package was "Charles Green, Muskegon." Green is a son-in-law of Krubaech. The handwriting was left intact by the explosion and it is planned to bring in chirographic experts to determine whether Bartlett's writing corresponds.

Late today, Bartlett was taken to view the bodies of the three victims. He displayed no emotion as he looked at them.

LURE OF LIPSTICK CAUSES FLAPPER TO AID HOLDUP

Miami, Fla., May 28.—(AP)—Lure of a lipstick led bobbed haired Mary Rogers, 17, of Indiana Harbor, Ind., to accompany her boy friend George Hall, 17, of Norfolk, Va., in an alleged drugstore robbery here early today.

DRYS OPEN FIGHT ON WADSWORTH

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, May 28.—The drys of New York formally declared today that they meant to sink United States Senator Wadsworth without a trace.

Following a conference of various prohibition groups, Orville S. Poland, counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, announced the Volsteadites would enter a candidate in the race against Mr. Wadsworth who seeks renomination at the hands of the republican party.

The question of naming independent candidates for governor and for other offices was left in abeyance for the moment. The dry spokesman, however, made it plain that the arid group would not be diverted from attacking their old ally, the G. O. P., by any specious plea to concentrate upon the rum referendum.

"The wet press of the state," said Mr. Poland, "is unanimous in attempting to lead the drys up a blind alley on the referendum proposition. We are daily counseled, adjured and beseeched to devote our efforts to the defeat of the so-called referendum proposal.

"The drys in their conference here today serve notice that they have not been deluded by wet politicians; they have not been jockeyed out of position by attempted wet political strategy; they have not been deluded by referendum arguments intended to divert them from the main issue."

Joining Mr. Poland in an assault, Senator Wadsworth, D. Lee Colvin, chairman of the prohibition national committee, announced the drys would prefer a democratic senator to Wadsworth.

"A democrat would be less dangerous," he said, "because a democrat would be in the minority in Washington."

FLORIDA GUARDSMEN GET BIG RUM CARGO

Miami, Fla., May 28.—(AP)—Coast guardsmen here today announced one of the largest liquor seizures during the past several months in the capture late last night of the cabin cruiser "Sea Pearl" off Pacific Reef, 22 miles south of Miami.

The 48-foot craft was said to have carried barreled liquor equal to 3,600 cases. G. Sims, the only person aboard, was taken in custody. Sims was said to have told coast guardsmen he took on the liquor at Gun Cay and that the crew abandoned the boat when the engines stalled.

War-like Boast Made in Senate By Mussolini

BY FRANCISCO REA.

Rome, May 28.—Premier Benito Mussolini, in discussing the proposed budget of the Italian ministry of foreign affairs in the senate Friday, has set forth to the world more clearly the desires of Italy, and in strong words, presumably referring to possible readjustment of colonial apportionments, has warned the world that "none will get anything unless Italy gets her share."

The Locarno treaties, the recently signed Russo-German neutrality treaty and the hope of the League of Nations for a world disarmament conference—all these international subjects—were touched on by the dictator, and through all his remarks there was evident the demand that Italy's hopes and aspirations be given most careful consideration.

Particularly did he dwell on his references to imperialism as made in an interview in Rome early this year.

"The Italian policy is suspected of being imperialistic," said the premier. "I have already explained what I think of the imperialistic phenomenon.

Desire for Power.

"Any living being has imperialistic tendencies if he wants to live. Therefore peoples must develop a certain desire for power if they want to survive. Otherwise they will lead a passive existence and will become the prey of stronger peoples whose desire for power is more marked.

The dictator then spoke of international peace phrases. "We hear fine phrases regarding the brotherhood of peoples and the cordiality of relations between nations," he continued. "These are fine commonplaces, but in reality they are far different than they sound. No people are dedicated to a fraternal policy. On the contrary all raise the strongest barriers which are today only political or economic. Even people with liberal traditions now bury them and hastily forget them.

"Our imperialism does not mean aggressiveness nor does it mean that we are preparing for war. I want to declare formally before the world that the fascist government cannot but pursue a policy of peace. It does not desire to perturb the peace of the world. This is shown by its elimination of its forces from all territories bordering on Italy provided those territories are likely to become the scene of armed conflicts."

Italy's Expectations.

Mussolini then took up the expectations of Italy if his country were to be kept in line with the desire for peace throughout the world.

"A just and lasting peace must come in the world along with the recognition of Italy's legitimate and sacred interests," said the premier. "A people with the history of the Italians as well as the noblest civilization can not be sentenced to vegetate. I hope our former war allies will convince themselves of the necessity of meeting our legitimate demands. Any way it must be clear that none will get anything unless Italy gets her share."

Mussolini's remarks on the Russo-German treaty were taken as bearing on the present colonial convention in Berlin which is demanding for Germany allotment of a colonial empire. While the premier made no direct demand for more colonies for Italy he stressed the need by Italy for a place to send her surplus population.

The Russo-German treaty he characterized as a most serious agreement which necessitated close thought and the maximum of watchfulness in view of its future effect.

"The seriousness of such a treaty should not be exaggerated," said the dictator, "but at the same time the present is no time for us to follow the example of the ostrich."

Italy had not insisted that the Locarno agreements be extended to include Brenner Pass and the section nearby which Italy now holds because Locarno had complicated things enough, Mussolini said, and the addition of the Brenner section to the treaties of Locarno would have complicated them more. He said that Italy was well able to defend this territory.

"Italy cannot disarm unless all countries actually and rapidly disarm," he asserted, turning to disarmament. "Italy would commit suicide, or at least lose her independence and liberty, if she were to disarm while others remained armed.

"Disarmament must be general; otherwise it would amount to nothing but a poor farce. By general I mean on land, at sea and in the air. No one should think of disarmament on land while maintaining naval armaments. Nor should there be thought of land and sea disarmament but the retention of aerial arms."

Expansion Needed

In concluding the premier turned once more to Italy's need for expansion.

"Italy is pursuing a policy of peace," he declared, "but it must be a peace with dignity and firmness in defense of our interests against anybody, anywhere.

"It is necessary that this young Italy shall make room for herself in the world. It takes intelligence to make such room, and it must be done at the proper time and with a good grace.

"We must proceed with care inasmuch as this is the only way to protect peace and make a lasting, a just peace as it was read in the gospels of the Wilsonian days."

MYSTERY WOMEN PUT UNDER ARREST

Birmingham, Ala., May 28.—(AP)—Two young women who the state believes were riding with Deputy Sheriffs Byron Shirley and Dewey Barrett when Johnny Jones, state law enforcement officer, was slain last Wednesday night on the Montgomery highway, arrived here tonight from Montgomery in custody of officers.

They are Miss Beatrice Campbell and Mrs. Lucile Scott. Solicitor Jim Davis tonight declared that the young women are believed to have been the "mystery women" in the case.

The women were taken into custody in Montgomery where Solicitor Davis says they secluded themselves after the slaying on Wednesday. Both of them were preparing to leave Montgomery when located, it was also announced here tonight.

GIRLS DENY THEY ATTENDED PARTY.

Montgomery, Ala., May 28.—(AP)—A second Montgomery girl was taken into custody by Chief Walter K. McAvoy, of the state law enforcement department here this afternoon and removed to Birmingham with Mrs. Lucile Scott as material witnesses in the shooting of Johnny Jones, deputy law enforcer, near Birmingham, Wednesday night.

She is Miss Beatrice Campbell, a friend of Mrs. Scott. Officers stated they held information that would indicate that Mrs. Scott and Miss Campbell were both occupants of the automobile with Byron Shirley and Dewey Barrett, deputy sheriffs of Jefferson county, charged with the shooting.

Miss Campbell and Mrs. Scott admitted that they knew both Shirley and Barrett. Mrs. Scott denied that she was a member of the alleged party Wednesday night. Miss Campbell refused to affirm or deny whether she was present. She said she is a native of Birmingham.

NEGRO GETS RESPITE ON EVE OF DEATH

Nashville, Tenn., May 28.—(AP)—A ninety-day respite was granted to Charles Barr, Memphis negro, alleged "petting party" bandit under sentence to die June 4, for the alleged murder of W. O. Spencer. The respite was requested by W. H. Swiggart, assistant attorney general, as his office has not yet received a certified copy of the order of the supreme court of the United States declining to transfer Barr's appeal to the United State's circuit court of appeals and dismissing the case.

Gate City Guard Continues Hard Drill Program

Memories of earlier days in Atlanta's history—of civil war days, the presentation by patriotic Atlanta women in the early sixties of a flag to a group of soldier boys who were leaving to join Lee's army in Virginia—these early events and others along through the years of the Spanish-American war, the Mexican border trouble and the sorrowing days of the world war were brought back Friday night as the historic Gate City Guard went through special drills in preparation for the visit to the sesquicentennial early in June in Philadelphia.

Representative Atlantans, men who have been elected from time to time as vacancies occurred to fill in.

Prominent Atlanta business men who have been invited to join to fill vacancies as they occur from time to time, went through difficult maneuvers and special drill features Friday night with all the precision of regular army men. And why shouldn't they, because every member has seen military service and among the personnel are high ranking army officers of the federal forces and of state troops. Major General Johnson Hagood, Lieutenant Colonel James M. Kimbrough, of the regular forces; Adjutant General Charles H. Cox, of Georgia; Lieutenant Colonel Eugene Oberdorfer, Captain B. T. Huiett, member of council; Captain Frank Maloney, Major Gerald P. O'Keefe, Captain Harry Heinz and others of the national guard are among members.

The old organization, founded in 1857, and with a record of glorious achievement in all wars in which the nation has engaged since its inception, will go to Philadelphia as the representative of the state and city. Council has been asked and is generally believed will give $2,000 toward expenses of sending the outfit to participate in the grand military spectacle between June 12-16.

New uniforms of Confederate gray with special cap and other individual articles of the uniform have arrived and the members will meet at the Auditorium Sunday morning for the first pictures in the special uniform they will wear to the sesquicentennial.

Mrs. Lowndes Is Beaten by New Orleans Star

Atlanta's Only Hope In Southern Tourney Loses Match, 4-2

Young Girl Star Plays Sparkling Golf To Defeat Older Opponent in Semi-Finals—Miss Turpie Will Meet Mrs. Dove in Final Match Today.

Charlotte, N. C., May 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Youth will match its vigor against the skill of a veteran of the links tomorrow when Miss Martin Turpie, 19, of New Orleans, battles Mrs. Dave Gaut, of Memphis, for the title of southern women's golf champion.

Miss Turpie today continued her sensational work to win from Mrs. H. Dargan Lowndes, of Atlanta, 4 and 2. Mrs. Lowndes' downfall apparently came from nervousness, as she lacked the coolness of her opponent from the outset.

Both were driving well, but those of the Atlanta woman at times were falling short of Miss Turpie's. The greatest trouble of Mrs. Lowndes, however, came with her iron shots. She was apparently over-anxious. The two were about even at putting.

Probably the best work of the match came at the fourth, when after getting off to a poor drive, which fell short and to the right, Miss Turpie played a long brassie shot to the green and went down in two putts for a birdie four on the hole.

The elimination of Mrs. Dalton Reymond, of Baton Rought, La., by Mrs. Gaut, one up, at the twentieth hole, also drew a large gallery.

With a record of having three times lowered the course record here, the Louisiana player entered the match on very nearly even terms with the highly rated Memphis woman.

Mrs. Gaut, three times southern title holder, however, displayed the same winning qualities of Miss Turpie and manifested an ever present coolness and consistency in play.

It was at the fourth that Mrs. Gaut made a beautiful recovery shot with an iron after driving into a ditch from the tee. That, with the additional feat of sinking a 12-foot putt, enabled her to halve the hole.

At the fourteenth, Mrs. Reymond smashed out a terrific drive and lay well on the green with her iron shot. Sinking her putt in one enabled her to take the hole.

OTHER WINNERS DECIDED TODAY.

BY JACK WADE.

Charlotte, N. C., May 28.—(Special.)—Two golfers, favorites from the first tee-off last Tuesday—Miss Marion Turpie, of New Orleans, and Mrs. David Gaut, of Memphis, will play this morning for the Southern Golf association championship. The finals follow a week of the closest and most exciting tournament that the south has ever witnessed.

All the thrills of play which come with a tournament to determine the queen of the links in this, probably one of the best and most aspired to titles the country has to offer, with the exception of national honors, will be present.

Among the prominent features of play tomorrow will be the fact that the play will be between a veteran of the game who has been a noted player in the tournaments and a mere wisp of a girl who will not reach her 18th birthday until next December.

The match play will start at 9 o'clock, with Miss Gertrude Michel, of Memphis, teeing off with Mrs. E. R. Coles, of Charlotte. These players are contesting for honors in the first flight.

Mrs. P. B. Heywood and Mrs. Thomas Hayes, both of Charlotte, will play to decide the winner of the first flight consolations. Miss Edna Hirschinger and Mrs. W. H. Willard, both of Charlotte, will follow in the contest for the Charlotte Country club trophy.

Mrs. W. Barnham Jones, of Norfolk, and Miss Jimmie Patillo, of Atlanta, tee off at 9:15 to decide the trophy consolation. Consolation honors in the championship flight will start at 9:30 with Mrs. W .L. Pierce, of Charlotte, paired against Mrs. E. D. Mason, of Louisville.

The big match of the day will come at 9:45, with promise of by far the largest gallery ever to witness a similar contest in Charlotte.

Kontz Elected Track Captain

Earnest Kontz, stellar artist of the cinder paths and smasher of several sprint records during the past season for Georgia Tech, was elected captain of the 1927 tracksters at a dinner given at the home of Coach Barron Friday night.

Alternate captain for the coming year will be Cecil Jamison, half-miler and alternate on the relay team during the past season. Jamison first made a name for himself this season when he developed into one of the best middle distance men in the conference.

Kontz has two more years to go at Tech, being a Sophomore this year and is expected to become even greater in the realm of track during his regime as captain of the golden team.

Mill Baseballers Blank Scottdale

The Exposition Cotton Mills team completely outplayed the Scottdale nine, winning by the overwhelming score of 15 to 0, Friday afternoon.

DEMPSEY WILL DEFEND TITLE SEPTEMBER 16

Hot Springs, Ark., May 28.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey will defend his heavyweight title on the night of September 16.

That announcement was made tonight by Tex Rickard to the Associated Press.

Dempsey, accompanied by a large party that had been with him in Hendersonville, N. C., arrived in Hot Springs this morning for a conference with Rickard. That conference was held this afternoon.

"Dempsey and I have agreed as to who his oppoent will be," Rickard said, "and the date of the bout will be on the night of September 16. I cannot, however, at this time state who Dempsey will defend his title against. I will make that fact public when I appear before the New York State Boxing commission next Wednesday."

There was a persistent rumor current that the man agreed upon was Gene Tunney, but neither Dempsey nor Rickard would either affirm or deny that it was the Greenwich Village idol. In fact, Dempsey left all public statements to Rickard.

Pleased With Champ.

"I was delighted to find Dempsey in such fine shape," said Rickard. "His stay in Hendersonville proved that he had really worked hard. He will have very little weight to take off. When I first saw him I thought he had gotten a little thin.

"Dempsey will pass July and August in Colorado Springs, and will come to New York in September to finish his training. I had hoped he would remain here for at least two weeks for the baths, but he has an engagement in Cleveland, Ohio, Monday night, which concludes, he informed me, his public exhibition and from there he goes to Colorado."

Rickard indicated that he believed the opponent he and Dempsey had agreed upon would meet with popular approval and that as great an interest in the coming world's heavyweight championship fight would be aroused as was the case when Dempsey fought Carpentier.

U. S. STARS SPLIT MATCH WITH FRENCH

Paris, May 28.—(AP)—America and France scored one victory apiece today in the first day's play of the international team tennis match on the hard courts of the racing club. The match is a sort of revenge affair for the triumphant indoor invasion of the United States last winter by Rene LaCoste and Jean Borotra.

As had been predicted, LaCoste captured his match from Howard O. Kinsey, of San Francisco, but not without difficulty. The scores were 9-7, 7-5. Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of the American team, defeated Mademoiselle Deve, 6-1, 7-5.

In the third match, Paul Feret achieved something of a feat in taking the first set from Vincent Richards 6-3, and then running up four games against the American's six in the seconds. Rain, which fell steadily throughout the afternoon, drenching players and spectators, finally brought postponement of the deciding frame until tomorrow after each player had won a game.

Royal, C.I.A. Nines Are Easy Winners

In the regular Insurance Company league play Friday afternoon, the C. I. A. and the Royal Insurance tossers romped to victory by overwhelming scores. The C. I. A. defeated the Commercial outfit by a 16-to-5 count, while the Royal boys dished out a 17-to-8 licking to the Georgia Casualty aggregation.

Errors were largely responsible for the big scores, although there were hits galore.

The score by innings for both games:

MAGNOLIA OIL BUYS LULING FIELD PROPERTY

Dallas, Texas, May 28.—(AP)—Magnolia Petroleum company officials here today confirmed the widely rumored purchase of the Luling, Texas, field properties of the United North and South Oil company announcing the consideration as $12,100,000, subject to approval of the latter concern's stockholders.

The deal calls for $6,050,000 cash upon consummation of the purchases and $6,050,000 payable out of one half of the oil "if, as, and when produced" from the purchased property.

The United North and South Oil company will continue in business, having retained the larger part of its acreage, which is undeveloped.

All mineral rights below the 3,000 foot horizon in all leases, however, were purchased by Magnolia.

In the near future, the United North and South Oil company will drill a deep well to extend beyond 3,000 feet, and will continue to operate such other properties as were retained.

BRITISH SELECT WALKER CUP GOLFERS

London, May 28.—(AP)—The British golf selection committee has chosen ten players to go to St. Andrews in preparation for the Walker cup competition. A final selection of the eight players who will make up the team will be made next Tuesday.

The ten selected today are: The Hon. W. G. Brownlow, Robert Harris, Major C. O. Hezlet, Andrew Jamieson, Jr., W. A. Murray, A. F. Simpson, E. F. Storey, Cyril Tolley, Roger Wethered and Sir Ernest Holderness.

AURORA PLOT BELIEVED ONLY MINOR SCHEME

BY FRENCH LANE.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Aurora, Ill., May 28.—Detectives gathering evidence against the five men alleged to have been involved in the gambling plot which caused the fatal poisoning of two race horses and the crippling of two others at Exposition Park track on Thursday, uncovered facts today which indicated that the prisoners attempted the plot here as an experiment which was to lead them to similar plots at all of the major race tracks of the country.

Major developments of the day's investigation were:

(1). Reiteration of the confessions of two of four men under arrest that they fed poisoned sugar lumps to four race horses in an attempt to fix the fifth race on Thursday's card.

(2). Finding of $35,000 in negotiable paper on the person of E. U. Young, a retired banker of Charleston, W. Va., one of the four men under arrest. Police believe this is an indication that Young was to be used as the banker for the gambling coup.

(3). Death of Elizabeth K., a $7,000 race horse, owned by J. Keller, of New Orleans. Apology, a $5,000 mare, owned by E. E. Sterrett, of Kentucky, died yesterday of the poison dose.

(4). Announcement by Keller and Sterrett that they would file damage suits against Young for a total of $12,000.

The reiteration of their Thursday night confessions was made by Earl Lever, of Toronto, Ont., and Frank Marion, of Springfield, Ohio. The third man under arrest, Charles Davis, of Dayton, Ohio, continues to deny complicity in the plot, but Young, the police say, admits that he accompanied the prisoners to the stables and that he laid bets on Faenza, the horse picked to win by the gamblers. Young denies that he planned the plot or realized its scope.

Aurora police and track detectives continued today to broadcast appeals for the arrest of Earle Clark, an alleged gambler, of Columbus, Ohio. The pair that confessed accuse Clark of framing the plot.

Clifford Trimble, manager of the Exposition Park track, whose quick action resulted in the arrest of the four men and the thwarting of the gambling coup, said tonight that he believed the plotters had planned to try out their poison plan at Aurora and then work it on the larger tracks.

Detectives concurred in this view. They said they had evidence that the plotters intended to move on Belmont and eastern tracks had they been successful here.

Sandrae, owned by J. W. Lewis, of Maryland, and Green Woods, owned by Terry Druggan and Frank Lake, former beer runners in Chicago, were the two horses poisoned which are recovering.

Detectives believe that Young may be telling the truth when he denies knowing the details of Clark's plans. They say that the finding of the $35,000 in notes on Young may indicate that the gamblers intended to work a con game on the ex-banker had the gambling coup gone awry. Young met Clark in Columbus while there on a farm deal and Clark got him to accompany him to Aurora by telling him of easy money to be made at the track.

Hendrick Still Holds 400 Mark

Memphis, Tenn., May 28.—(AP)—Hendrick, of New Orleans, is the lone survivor of Southern association .400 or better hitters. And his mark today is a bare .401. Yaryan, of Birmingham, yesterday's second position holder, with .401, dropped today to fifth place and .388 by going to bat five times without a hit. Except for minor changes in relative position the personnel of the "big five" is the same as yesterday.

SENATOR SMOOT IS TAKEN ILL IN HIS OFFICE

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, was taken ill with acute indigestion in his office at the capitol today and a physician was summoned.

Concern was felt over Mr. Smoot's condition because he had a similar attack last fall from which he recovered after a long rest.

The physician summoned to the office said Senator Smoot's condition was not critical. It was some time, however, before he felt able to go to his home.

VALDOSTA CONFERENCE MEETS AT QUITMAN

Quitman, Ga., May 28.—(Special.) The annual Methodist conference of the Valdosta district is in session at the Methodist church here with every church in the district represented, with about 125 delegates and visitors present.

A significant feature of the reports was the healthy increase in membership, notwithstanding very few churches have had revival meetings. The district undertook the first of the year to raise $4,200 as a surplus fund for mission causes; it was reported that this has been raised and most of the money in hand.

Rev. C. W. Curry, of Valdosta, is presiding, and the daily sermons are preached by Rev. Silas Johnson, of Trinity church, Savannah, whose sermon last night gave the keynote of the conference. All of the reports of church progress are good.

Rev. J. A. Smith, agent for the Methodist Orphans' home at Vineville, asked the conference to give $300 to support the home three days. There are 15[illegible] orphans being cared for at a cost of $100 per day, he said.

MAKE WELL TAYLORED TEAM

Eddie Taylor, a young infielder obtained from the Albany team by the Boston Braves last fall, hopes to help "Zack" Taylor, catcher, make the Boston Braves a well Taylored team. If Eddie fails to make the grade this season he'll probably be farmed out for a year of intensive training. Zack's due to handle the bulk of the catching this season for Dave Bancroft.

Americans Argue Over Change In Cup Team

London, May 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Objection of the American Walker cup golfers to the appearance of ten men instead of eight on the British team which faces them next week is said to have offered a perplexing problem for the royal and ancient selection committee.

W. G. Brownlow, Robert Harris, Major C. O. Hezlet, A. Jamieson, Jr., W. A. Murray, A. F. Simpson, E. F. Storey, Cyril Tolley, Roger Wethered and Sir Ernest Holderness today were announced as the British defenders.

It is understood that the royal and ancient committee's objects in naming ten players was to change the team after the foursomes had been played, if so desired, but the Americans argued that they had only eight players available.

All of the selected players, except Browlow, Jamieson and Simpson were among the 21 originally asked to prepare themselves for the Walker cup matches. The high standard attained by this trio in the amateur championship at Muirfield led to its inclusion.

It is noteworthy that neither Jamieson nor Simpson were considered good enough to represent Scotland against England in a team match May 22. There is much curiosity as to who will be eliminated.

Paddock Fails To Set Record

Los Angeles, May 28.—(AP)—Charles Paddock failed in his first try today to beat his mark of 9.5 seconds for the 100-yard dash set here several weeks ago. Making his dash on a specially constructed track under the auspices of the Breakfast club, the blond sprinter was clocked by officials of the Southern Pacific branch of the A. A. U. at 9:8 seconds. Club sponsors said the track was a bit soft.

"BATHTUB" GIRL IS INDIFFERENT ABOUT CARROLL

New York, May 27.—Joyce Hawley, who took her bath on the stage of Earl Carroll's theater, received news of Carroll's conviction with indifference.

"Well, I don't give a——," she remarked as she puckered up her lips preparatory to applying a coat of lipstick.

"But he won't have to go to jail, will he?"

"I hope he doesn't," she added.

Reminded that it was her testimony which resulted in Carroll's conviction, Joyces' eyes narrowed.

"He did lie. He lied about the wine at the party. I was paralyzed drunk at his party from wine I got there. Any time I feel like singing 'Sweet Adeline,' I know I've had too much. And that was one night I sang."

CITY ARCHITECTURAL PLAN IS APPROVED

Protests against the proposed plan to establish an architectural department in connection with the expenditure of the $3,500,000 fund for constructing and improving Atlanta schools, is contained in a letter sent to William Candler, chairman of the bond commission, by the Atlanta Exchange club.

FOREIGN CARS ENTER ANNUAL SPEED CLASSIC

Indianapolis, May 28.—(AP)—The 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway next Monday was assured an international aspect today when one English and French car passed the qualification test.

W. Douglas Hawkes, of London, England, drove an English machine at a rate of 94.97 miles an hour in the 10-mile trial. Albert Guyot, Frenchman, put his racer over the bricks at an average speed of 88.58 miles an hour.

Four Others Qualify.

Four other drivers and cars qualified today, bringing the total number of 19 to date. Cliff Woodbury made the best time, averaging 105.10 miles an hour. Ralph Heburn was next with 102.51 miles an hour. Norman Batten's average was 101.42. Ben Jones qualified at an average of 92.14.

Jones was at the wheel of a car with a two-cycle type of motor, the only one of the kind entered in a race in recent years.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE TO RADIO RACE.

Chicago, May 28.—(AP)—The 500-mile Memorial day automobile race at Indianapolis next Monday will be radiocast from station WGN (Chicago Tribune).

The station will go on the air at 10:30 a. m., Chicago time, with connections direct to the speedway.

YOUNG WOMAN TRIES TO END LIFE BY POISON ROUTE

Despondent over matters she stoutly refused to explain, Mrs. Flora Heath, 20, 355 South Boulevard, attempted to end her life Friday night by swallowing a small quantity of poison, according to Grady hospital physicians.

She was carried to Grady hospital, where antidotes were administered and she was pronounced out of danger. The young woman, hospital attaches said, moved here recently from Alabama.

Mrs. Heath was found by friends, occupants of the house, who missed her and went into her room, where she was discovered a few minutes after she swallowed the poison.

Monday night the senior play will take place and Tuesday night the graduating exercises will be held. Dr. R. H. Powell, of Valdosta, will deliver the address on this occasion.

BOARD RECOMMENDS PAROLE FOR COX

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—A parole for S. E. J. Cox, Houston, Texas, oil promoter, now in Leavenworth penitentiary, has been recommended by the federal parole board.

Cox, who was sentenced for eight years, will not be eligible, however, for parole until July 20. The board's recommendation must be approved by the attorney general.

289 GOLFERS IN BRITISH OPEN

London, May 28.—(AP)—There are 289 entries for the British open golf championship which will be played at the Royal Lytham and St. Anne's Golf club at Saint Anne's-on-the-Sea during the last week in June.

PARINGS MADE FOR AMERICAN, FRENCH MATCH

Paris, May 28.—(AP)—The draw for the woman's singles in the international hard court tournament beginning here on June 2, places Suzanne Lenglen at the head of the top half and Miss Helen Wills at the bottom of the second half. Thus there is a good prospect of another meeting between the French and American champions.

Miss Willis and Miss Mary Browne, Mlle. Contoslavos and Vidi Vlasto, two strong French players, appear in the bottom half and are likely to meet in the second round. Miss Wills will probably have to beat the winner of this match. Mrs. L. A. Godfree or Miss Browne are to arrive at the semi-finals.

There are 75 entrants in the men's singles. The top half contains Rene Lacoste, C. G. N. Turnbull, of England, Baron de Morpurgo, of Italy; Nicholas Mishu, of Rumania; Eduardo Flaquer, of Spain; C. F. Aeschliman, Howard Kinsey and Jean Borotra. In the lower half are M. Washer, of Belgium; M. O. Fisher, of England; Henry Cochet, of France; Baron von Kehrling, of Hungary; Jacques Brugnon, of France, and Vincent Richards.

Helen Not in Doubles.

Miss Wills is not playing in the women's doubles, but Mlle. Lenglen is entered with Mlle. Vlasto as her partner. Eighteen couples are entered in this part of the competition, Mlles. Lenglen and Vlasto topping the first half and the Misses Ryan and Browne closing the lower half.

Thirty-four couples are entered for the mixed doubles. Mlle. Lenglen and Jacques Brugnon head the top half, and Miss Wills and Vincent Richards close the lower half.

Thirty-three couples appear in the men's doubles. Richards and Kinsey are in the top half, where also are Borotra and Lacoste, Baron von Kehrling and Count Salmboogstraeten are also entered.

BANDIT CAPTIVES BELIEVED UNHURT

El Paso, Texas, May 28.—(AP)—Reassuring reports of the safety of J. W. Shanklin and C. B. Braden, two of five Americans held captive by Mexican bandits, came out of Mexico today.

Shanklin, whom bandits in the state of Vera Cruz had threatened to kill at 6 p. m., yesterday, if ransom of 20,000 pesos had not been received at that hour is in no danger, according to word received by his family at Canyon City, Texas. The message was from a Mr. McLane, superintendent of the sugar plantation on which Shanklin was employed.

Mrs. Shanklin, two daughters and a son, continue planning a vacation trip to Vera Cruz, confident that Shanklin will be liberated unharmed.

Torturing Denied.

A telegram from United States consul B. F. Yost at Torreon, Mexico, received today by Mrs. C. B. Braden at Laredo, Texas, denied that the consul had received advices that C. B. Braden was being tortured by Mexican bandits in the state of Durango.

Mr. Yost had been quoted in a dispatch to Mexico City as announcing receipt of a letter saying Braden had been hung by the thumbs by his captors.

Advised that he has sent his vice consul to Mapimi to negotiate with the bandits for the release of Braden and Jules B. Gallagher. Both were captured by the bandits at the Texana mines near Descubridora, Durango, May 18.

Additional troops have been assigned to search for the bandits, the consul's telegram said.

An American oil well driller named Biggs, reported kidnaped by bandits near Palmo Solo, Vera Cruz, is believed by Mrs. V. W. Biggs, of Brownsville, Texas, to be her husband, who has been located at Palmo Solo.

Mrs. Biggs said she received, a letter from her husband three days ago. He has been employed in the Mexican oil fields for several years. He is 51 years old.

Henry C. A. Damm, American consul at Nogales, Ariz., today received confirmation of a report that John Edwards, 70-year-old American had been killed by a posse led by the chief of police of Coyotillo, Sonora, Mexico.

A report to The Nogales Herald yesterday said that Edwards, employee of a mining company had been shot to death near his home following an alleged threat on the life of a Mexican youth, and although mortally wounded he managed to drag himself into his hut which was fired by the posse and his body consumed. His Mexican wife was allowed to escape.

2 AMERICAN CAPTIVES ARE REPORTED FREED.

Mexico City, May 28.—Two of the five Americans held for ransom by Mexican bandits—oil drillers named Briggs and Greeley—have been released following pursuit of the bandit groups by Mexican soldiers.

Word of the release of the two men, who were taken captive Thursday, was reported to the American embassy by representatives of El Aguila Oil company, a British concern for which the two men worked. They were released without payment of ransom money which had been demanded.

The Mexican foreign office has realized the seriousness of increasing bandit outrages against Americans and American property. General Gomez has been put in charge of troops to pursue the bandits and the government has given him full authority to handle the situation in any way he sees fit.

there was need for his best golf which he could not bring forth.

So unexpected was this result that comparatively small gallery went around with the American champion and his opponent. Everyone had looked for an easy victory for Jones.

The cheer that went up when Bobby picked up his ball and nodded to his opponent on the fifteenth green was as much a cheer for the American as it was for his conqueror.

The card:

Jones (out)	554	255	345—38
Jamieson (in)	444	344
Jones (in)	545	354

The Jamieson-Simpson card:

Simpson (out) .	555	265	344—41
Simpson (in)	744	344	44—

Jess Sweetser, shooting great golf, and extremely steady on the greens, looke a likely winner over Simpson on Saturday. He will be the first American-born golfer to take the title if he can bring it off.

The New Yorker defeated Robert Scott, Jr.. 2 up, in the morning and then defeated the Honorable W. G. Brownlow in a thrilling 21-hole match in the afternoon.

Sweetser (out) ...	745	354	455—42
Scott (out)	544	354	356—39
Sweetser (in) .	434	345	345—35—77
Scott (in) ...	654	345	365—41—80

Sweetser appeared to have the match well in hand, being dormy two going to the seventeenth, but the Irishman sank a long putt to win the hole. Jess missed a short putt at the eighteenth, and the match was square.

From then on, to the twenty-first, it was nip and tuck, with Sweetser limping gamely down the fairway after each shot and getting all the rest he could for his lame knee while on the greens.

The Scots who paid their half crowns to see the semi-finals gave Sweetser an ovation when he defeated Brownlow, for they are pleased at the prospect of an international final.

"I had a terrific battle of it," said Jess brusquely when it was over. "I deserved to lose at the fourteenth, when I missed a short putt and barely halved the hole."

Sweetser and Brownlow, as they teed off on their afternoon match, presented the greatest possible contrast from the standpoint of accoutrement. Jess, the good-looking former Yale athlete, was dressed in the height of golfing fashion, plus fours, checkered hose and all, but the son of Irish nobility opposing him appeared in his street clothes and refused to doff his gray silk gloves even while playing.

Jess, though cool and collected, seemed a nervous wreck compared with the Irishman who played such a casual game as to appear careless He took everything as a matter of course even seeming to wonder why the gallery made such a fuss about his superb playing on the last two holes of the eighteen.

The card:

Brownlow (out)	544	444	355—38
Sweetser (in) .	544	354	355—39—75
Brownlow (in)	454	354	444—37—75
Sweetser (extra holes) .			544—13
Brownlow (extra holes)			545—14

Jess is practically certain to turn the difficult Muirfield course in even fours, even in the strees of a tournament final, but if he has a sensational round he will be unbeatable, at least by Simpson, who is a steady but not over-brilliant player.

The short putt which Sweetser missed at the fourteenth was one at which he merely glanced and then tapped his ball. He missed the cup and had to take another putt, much to his chagrin.

ALSO PLANS TRIP TO SOUTH POLE

London, May 28.—(AP)—By the strange irony of fate, Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd, none the worse from 15 hours in the air, facing arctic breezes on his recent flight from Spitzbergen to the north pole, has come to London only to catch a cold. He is still full of energy, however, and already is laying plans to revisit the north pole, with hope of discovering land. Then after he has fully satisfied himself as to that, he will begin work on another airplane expedition, to the Antarctic.

Lieutenant Command Byrd told the Associated Press correspondent that he was more convinced than ever after his pole flight that unexplored lands exist somewhere between Ellsmere island and Axel Heiberg island and Alaska. He reached these conclusions after studying the currents and conditions generally during his recent flight. He said he might make his next pole flight in 1927, but the date of his south pole expedition is indefinite.

"Well, it was not what most persons might imagine. It was not after we had taken our calculations showing we had reached the pole, nor when Bennett and I shook hands warmly over our accomplishments; nor was it when we landed back after completing the flight. The truth is that the most supreme thrill of my career came when we took off from Spitzbergen and I realized that at last I was bound for the pole sure as fate. It was more than a thrill; it was a tingling sensation throughout my body which I won't ever forget."

Commander Byrd's plane started with 9,400 pounds dead weight, and this, he said, convinced him there was a future for aviation commercially and for exploration purposes, which today was difficult for most persons to realize.

Byrd arrived in London during the warmest spell of the spring, but catching a slight cold and encountering the English heat has not daunted him in the least. He has been up and going nearly every hour since he got here, but nevertheless has endeavored to avoid all attempts to lionize him.

He was a luncheon guest today of the Royal Aero club and tomorrow will be the guest at luncheon of Alanson B. Houghton, the American ambassador. He has a few other engagements, most of them private. Then he will skip to Paris for two days, returning here. He plans to sail for home next Thursday.

Although he has received numerous invitations to be the house guest of Americans during his stay, they have all been declined. Commander Byrd preferring his bunk on the expedition steamer Chantier, tied up at the East India docks on the Thames.

Marshfield, Ore., May 28.—(AP)—Seaplane No. 2, Alaska survey expedition, fell 300 feet into Coos bay about noon today and three men were seriously injured.

Lieutenant Wallace Dillon and Photographer Peterson were among the injured.

BEAVERS TO ASK 30-DAY VACATION OF POLICE BOARD

A request for a leave of absence of 30 days to attend the International Association of Chiefs of Police in Chicago, July 19, and for a vacation in the Minnesota woods, will be made by Chief James L. Beavers to the council police committee at its next meeting, he said Friday. The chief also expects to visit his son in Minneapolis before returning, if granted the leave.

Chief Beavers formerly was secretary of the international association and is anxious to attend the convention. He will spend several days in the Minnesota woods in an effort to fully regain his health by this fall.

He has now assumed full duties of chief and Friday held inspection of summer uniforms for all details. He will go to Piedmont park this morning at 10 o'clock to review the police military platoon and band, in command of Captain W. M. Weaver and Captain John Scharf.

CITIZENS OF BARTOW INOCULATE FOR FEVER

Cartersville, Ga., May 28.—(Special.)—Nearly one thousand citizens of Bartow county are taking typhoid fever inoculations, according to Dr. D. H. Monroe, commissioner of health. This work has ben carried on here for the past five years, with the result that a case of typhoid fever in Bartow county is becoming a thing almost unheard of.

BRITAIN RATIONS SUPPLY OF COAL

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

London, May 28.—The seriousness of the coal situation was brought home to millions of Britons with the announcement of drastic rationing regulations, more severe than in the direst days of the war. These regulations follow feelers put out this morning which indicated steps to renew negotiations on a different basis are imminent. There is an indication that the government might take the bull by the horns, ordering a ballot among the miners and mine owners, disregarding the leaders and organizations of each. This, however, is denied and denounced as impractiable.

Meanwhile, four days remain before the offer of a $15,000,000 subsidy is withdrawn. Prime Minister Baldwin's offer still is open to acceptance by the miners, and a most hopeful sign is the announcement today by Herbert Smith, their president, that he is willing to allow a ballot among the miners.

Parris Island Woman Dies in Savannah Of Auto Injuries

Savannah, Ga., May 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Adelia Purnell Ridley, hostess at the Marine barracks, Parris Island, S. C., died in a hospital here this afternoon following injuries received in an automobile accident near Hardeeville, S. C., Thursday, May 20.

The car in which she was riding with Captain and Mrs. G. H. Medairy and Lieutenant J. Graham, of Parris Island, skidded into a ditch. They were returning to the island at the time, but an ambulance brought them to Savannah. Mrs. Ridley had since been in a hospital.

Crackers Pound Out 7-to-1 Victory Over Chicks

BY HERBERT CALDWELL.

Memphis, Tenn., May 28.—(Special.)—Cliff Markle is up to his old tricks. A time there was when the Cracker right-hander could shake his glove in the face of the Chicks and they would roll over and play dead. That time seems to still exist. Making his first appearance at Rushwood park in some time, Markle today held the Tribe under the spell of his right arm while his teammates gathered unto themselves sufficient hits off Horace Lisenbee and Lloyd Brown to win the second game of the series, 7 to 1.

Aided and abetted by brilliant fielding of his mates, Markle held the Chicks to six hits, three of which came in the fourth inning, when they made their solitary score. He turned back seven batters on strikes, most of them as they stood by and saw a deceptive drop go by.

Much in contrast to the aid Markle received by his mates was the nonsupport of Horace Lisenbee, young right-hander. The Crackers scored two in the third inning when they really shouldn't have scored at all. They scored two in the seventh without a hit. They bammed in two more in the eighth. Lloyd Brown finished the game and the Crackers scored off him in the ninth.

Bert Niehoff, manager and second baseman of the Crackers, was quite a barrier in the way of prospective Chick base runners. He had eight assists and he figured in two double plays by tagging runners as they went by and then throwing to first. The Crackers got away in the third when Brock singled for a starter. Markle, attempting to sacrifice, fouled to Kohlbecker. Murphy singled to left, sending Brock to third, but Milan threw out Murphy at second.

Good singled by Barrett, who made a feeble effort to get the ball. Brock scored and Niehoff went to third on a double steal. Kohlbecker had Niehoff off third easily, but heaved into left field and Niehoff scored and Good continued on to third.

The Chicks got within reaching distance with one in the fourth, but that was the nearest they ever got. Barber singled and Taylor hit into a double play when Niehoff took his grounder, tagged Barber, and then threw to first. Barrett singled and moved up on a wild pitch. Schmandt scored him with a single to left.

The Crackers got but one hit off Lisenbee in the fourth, fifth and sixth, but Brock walked to open the seventh. Markle bunted to Schmandt, who nicked Brock's shoulder on the throw to second, and Brock went to third and Markle to second. Brock scored and Markle took third on Murphy's sacrifice fly to Jones, and Markle scored when Niehoff flied out to Barber. A single by Niehaus—his third hit of the game—double by Gilbert and single by Watson gave the Crackers a pair in the seventh. They scored off Brown in the ninth on Murphy's double and Niehoff's single.

The Chicks really had but four chances to score. Schmandt singled to open the second. Reese struck out and Milan forced Schmandt. Brock then nipped Milan off first base. With one out in the eighth, Kohlbecker's single and Bonnelly, batting for Lisenbee, walked, but Jones hit into a double play when Niehoff took his grounder, tagged Bonnelly and threw to first. The Chicks might have scored in the ninth, but it wouldn't have meant anything. Barber singled and went to second on a wild pitch, but Taylor, Barrett and Schmandt went out as they went to bat.

Toccoa, Ga., May 28.—(Special.)—Toccoa again defeated Greenwood here today, capturing both games in their first home series, 9 to 4. Sanders, Toccoa's first man in the box, injured his arm and was forced to give way to Bailey. Bailey, who lost the last game to Greenwood Tuesday, fanned five in three innings.

Black Crackers Again Beat Sox

Coming from behind in the last three frames, the Black Crackers Friday took their second straight from the Memphis Red Sox, the final count being 5 to 4. The Atlanta team failed to cross the plate for six innings, but a run in the seventh, three in the eighth, and another in the ninth accounted for the victory.

Memphis grabbed off two counters in the first inning, and in a desperate rally, scored two more to tie the score in the ninth. Finner's double, following Cotton's single, gave the Black Crackers the winning run in their half of the frame.

Braves Unveil Matty Memorial

Boston, May 28.—After the unveiling of a bronze memorial tablet to the memory of Christy Mathewson, who died last October while president of the Boston Braves, the home team proceeded to defeat the Giants, 5 to 3, in the first game of a series here today.

Before the unveiling there was a four and one-half inning game between the Braves, for whom Dick Rudolph pitched and Fred Mitchell caught, and the old timers for whom Joe McGinnity and Milekynch pitched and Roger Bresnahan and Jack Ryan caught. The old timers lost, 4 to 3.

Commissioner Landis, Governor Fuller, Mayor Nichols, President John A. Heydler, of the National league, and Commander Good, of the Massachusetts American Legion, were speakers. The proceeds of the game go to the Mathewson memorial fund which is to be used for the Saranac Lake, N. Y., American Legion post.

PIRATES WIN CLOSE ONE.

Pittsburgh, May 28.—Pittsburgh defeated Chicago, 6 to 5 in 11 innings today, Glenn Wright's triple scoring Hal Rhyne with the winning run after the Cubs had tied the score in the ninth. Meadows, who had relieved Yde in the ninth, held the Cubs hitless the remainder of the game. Six of Chicago's seven hits were for extra bases, Scott and Grimm hammering out home runs. Osborne, who started for Chicago, twisted his foot in the second and Piercy was called to the mound. The latter made way for a pinch hitter in the ninth and Bush finished.

Grover Alexander, star Chicago pitcher, collapsed in the dugout during the game and was assisted from the field. Physicians said he had suffered an attack of dizziness.

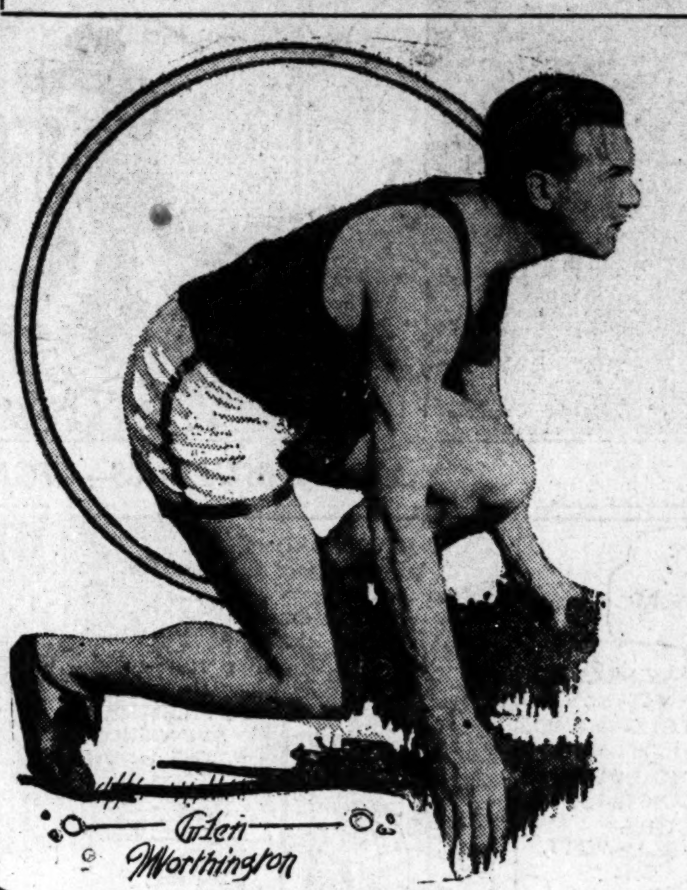
STAR OF ROCKIES



Glen Worthington, freshman at the Utah Agricultural school, is pointed out as one of the greatest athletic prospects produced in the Rocky Mountain district in years. He was a star on the freshman football team last fall, a star center in basketball, a member of the Aggie relay team and his showing in baseball this year is expected to gain him attention of fast minor league scouts.

Double Defeat Stops Yanks Winning Streak

BY FRANK GETTY.

Lefty Grove and the Philadelphia Athletics put a sudden and emphatic ending to New York's winning streak by winning a double-header at the Yankee stadium. Grove did the stopping in the first game, his pitching halting the Yanks with a record of 16 consecutive victories. The score was 2 to 1.

Then to make it clear that the Yankees were really and truly stopped, the Athletics fell upon Urban Shocker like a ton of bricks in the second game and walked away with the nightcap, 6 to 5.

They were two tough games for New York to lose, and a crowd of some 35,000 groaned to see their favorites thus turned back after 16 straight wins.

Scores on Error.

While interest naturally centered in the ending of the Yankees' winning streak, it must not be overlooked that the Athletics played a high-class brand of baseball, one which made them look more like potential pennant winners than their opponents.

Helpless at bat against the pitching of Waite Hoyt in the first game, the Mackmen started out after Urban Shocker with a rush in the closing contest. The game had hardly started before Cochrane, the Philadelphia catcher, had smacked a home run into left center, scoring Bishop, who had singled ahead of him.

Meanwhile young Mr. Gray, who was quite an expense to Connie Mack some time back, was working along nicely and had the disappointed Yankees eating out of his educated right hand.

Lefty Groves was wild in the early innings and was often in trouble. His generosity in the matter of passes repeatedly paved the way for runs, but the ensuing New York batsmen had only good intentions.

Lou Gehrig fanned three times with teammates prancing on the base paths, eager to score, and Earl Combs hit a weak little roller to the box for a third out when the bases were filled.

Mark Koenig, whose error let in the fatal run, had a chance to redeem himself in the ninth, with Aaron Ward on first and two out, but Koenig's best was a pop fly to left which Lamar caught on the dead run.

Wins High Honors.

Groves, the only pitcher in the American league who has beaten the Yankees twice this year, steadied down towards the end of the game and finished strongly, fanning Mike Gazella and Ben Paschal in the ninth.

It was a heart-breaking game for Waite Hoyt to lose. The "schoolboy pitcher," as Hoyt still is called, despite his years of service with the Yankees, allowed only four hits.

As a result of their double defeat, the Yanks came down a little from their high horse, and are now only six games ahead of the Athletics.

It was reported that Cornelius McGillicuddy smiled after the second game was over, but this was unconfirmed.

VOLS DEFEAT PELS, 5 TO 4.

Nashville, Tenn., May 28.—In a game featured by home runs Nashville made it two in a row over New Orleans by taking the game today, 5 to 4, in the 10th inning. Neitzke's double, after Camp's single, McLarry's intentional walk and Partridge's single, put over two runs. Camp and McLarry hit home runs in the sixth to even the score at 2-all. It was a home run by Tucker in the tenth that gave the Pelicans their one-run lead, which was overcome by the Vols in their half.

Scrappy Moore Gets Two Homers To Give Georgia 11-to-7 Win

Bulldog Fielder Bats in Five Counters and Scores Three Himself to Give Team Verdict Over University of Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., May 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—The University of Georgia baseball team found its batting eye in the first of a two-game series with the University of Kentucky here today and batted out an 11-to-7 victory.

Scrappy Moore was the particular star at bat for the Bulldogs and annexed two home runs, one coming in the seventh with the bases full. The flashy centerfielder accounted for eight of the Georgia runs, batting in five and scoring three himself. Satlof and Johnson also hit homers.

"Shaky" Kain was on the mound for the Bulldogs, and until the ninth inning he had the Wildcats eating from his hand. With a seven-run lead in the ninth, he eased up a bit and allowed four hits to score as many runs for Kentucky.

Kentucky scored first in the opening inning on a couple of hits and a sacrifice, but in the next frame Georgia tied the score on a hit, an error and a sacrifice. The Bulldogs added three runs in the third when Moore hit one out of the park with two men on. Kentucky scored one in the third and sixth, and then in the seventh, with the bases full, Moore again hit a circuit clout. The ball was not retrieved. Satlof and Johnson got home runs in the eighth, while another run was annexed in the ninth on a hit, and an error. The Kentucky rally in the ninth wound up the game.

U. S. C. Track Stars Leading Big Field

Cambridge, Mass., May 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—University of Southern California's spectacular track and field squad strengthened its prospects for carrying off intercollegiate A. A. A. A. championship for the second straight year by monopolizing major honors today in the elimination tests paving the way for tomorrow's finals.

The Trojans not only led a score of rival colleges by gaining 13 qualifying places, but furnished the outstanding individual performer of the day in their brilliant captain, Clarence L. (Bud) Houser, who shattered championship meet records in both the shot put and discus throw.

Houser eclipsed his own former mark in the discus, set last year, by hurling the platter 151 feet 3 3-8 inches, after tossing the shot a distance of 49 feet, 11 3-4 inches to displace the standard set last spring by Ralph Hills, of Princeton, at 49 feet 9 5-8 inches.

There was distinct far-western tinge to the day's performances at Harvard stadium. Yale finished second in team honors with 11 qualifiers, but Leland Stanford and the University of Calfornia were close behind, tying for third position with 10 qualifiers each.

Harvard, qualifying eight men, was one behind Georgetown and tied with Princeton. Pennsylvania and Penn State had seven each; Cornell and Dartmouth, five each; Syracuse, Colgate, Boston College, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, three each; Columbia, two; College of the City of New York, Holy Cross and Swarthmore, one each.

Reg. U.S. Patent Office.

By Louis Tracy

INSTALLMENT XVIII.

John Reflects on the Past.

The two subalterns, Molliner and Vere-Davis, were in the trench when he, Panton, passed along. He remembered that he felt a trifle dizzy, and slipped twice unaccountably on the duckboards, which made him rather angry—absurdly so, indeed, when he knew what tricks duckboards could play. The sergeant-major was with him, and said something silly about cheering up—it would soon be over—whereupon he flew into a rage, though all the time he had a subconscious knowledge he was behaving foolishly. Never before had he given way to nerves, not even in the dark days of 1916. Then if the Germans were pushed, more often than not they pushed back so effectively that when actual fighting ceased the balance of ground gained would be in their favor. Now they were yielding. The allied line was advancing rapidly, and making good every time. Why, then, should a veteran of countless assaults suddenly go to pieces when undertaking a not particularly hazardous operation which was bound to be successful?

From that point his recollections grew blurred. He had a hazy belief that some altercation broke out between the subalterns, the sergeant-major and himself, but could not, for the life of him, recall what it was all about.

When he came to his senses he was under close arrest at divisional headquarters, miles away. What had happened meanwhile? He learned only too soon.

No more terrible evidence could be brought against any leader of men. His own officers, noncommissioned officers, and private soldiers supplied it, though the damning facts had to be dragged out of them. Molliner and Vere-Davis were brought from hospital to tell what they saw and heard, each having been hit during the counterattack of which Frensham had spoken. They had to be spoken to rather sharply by the president of the court before they would admit that in their opinion their company commander was suffering from the effect of either drugs or alcohol. Whatever the cause, there could be no denying the wretched outcome—he had refused decisively to lead his men, and even advised them not to advance if ordered. Finally, when the whistles blew, he threw himself down in a fire bay and shouted in derision of the notion that rational human beings could settle a dispute by using rifles, bayonets, and hand grenades.

Company Sergeant Major Connington nearly broke down when called, but his statement was more to the point than that of any other witness.

He surprised the court by saying that, contrary to the general belief, a good many men suspected that the forthcoming attack would be resisted most strenuously. If the British objective were attained, the flank of a whole German army corps would be turned and the general retreat already in progress must be converted into a rout. Therefore, a fiercely fought action might be expected, and casualties would be heavy.

The officer who acted as prisoner's friend seized on this point and asked how it came about that one noncommissioned officer in a regiment should possess most secret information known only to the general staff. Connington replied that Captain Panton certainly knew of it that morning, and the matter had been discussed by a group of sergeants overnight. Two sergeants bore out the latter part of this statement. They believed it had come through another sergeant, killed during the fight, who said he had picked up the story from some person unnamed.

Panton himself denied that he was either aware of or had mentioned any such outcome of the attack, whereuptn Connington, recalled admitted he might have been mistaken in that particular, but pointed out that the threatened lack of Mills bombs seemed to disturb his company commander rather more than the circumstances warranted if the "show" promised to be nothing out of the ordinary.

This phase of the inquiry was investigated fully, but every witness reached a dead end when questioned as to the source of the rumor. It appeared that Connington led the company with great skill and bravery during a fierce and protracted engagement, which cost the battalion nine officers and nearly two hundred rank and file men killed and wounded. It was generally supposed that the sergeant-major would be recommended for the D. C. M. and a commission, but in the sequel neither was awarded.

That was as far as Panton's acquaintance with the main features of the affair went. He would never forget how his very soul was pierced by the point of his sword extended toward him on a table when he was taken to hear the findings of the court. After that his life was blank. He did not ask why he had escaped the death penalty. He crossed the channel like one whose mind was deranged by melancholia, making straight for Inverlochtie, driven by some vague notion that he must have it out with his father.

Now, Maj. Alistair Panton had taken no part in the proceedings, while on the actual date of his cousin's curious collapse he was 50 miles away, engaged on transport work, in which he was an admitted expert. Of what avail to badger one's brains in the effort to involve him in the ghastly business? John Panton saw the folly of it for the hundredth time, yet some secret nerve urged him to drag Alistair into some nook where no other could interfere, and force from him an avowal of guilt, even though he should be brought to death's door before he confessed.

John closed the notebook in impotent anger when he saw Maple Leslie approaching across the lawn.

"The gardener said you were here," she said gayly. "You look as though you were enjoying the fine weather, so hop in and be miserable for tea."

"I have just come to the conclusion that I had better take the next steamer for Canada," he said, rising.

"That very idea has been the making of many a man," she retorted. "Anyhow, tea is ready, and you'll probably change your mind twice before dinner. What's given you the hump this afternoon?"

"Is that really true, John?" she said, wistfully.

"Absolutely true. I may have been more sinned against than sinning but the plain fact remains that after a full review of the evidence I can only find myself guilty."

For a moment there was silence. Maple Leslie wanted to cry, but forced herself to speak instead.

"Tell me, John, even though it hurts," she said. "Did Eileen Grant believe that of you?"

"Thank God, she never knew!—unless Alistair—ah, that is it! That is how he broke her to his will! May, my little friend, if I don't get away from the old country soon I shall kill Alistair!"

The answer was unexpected and highly distasteful. May Leslie bit her lip so as to keep that unruly tongue of hers quiet. If John wanted to beat up Alistair, well, let him—it was a way men had. But why couldn't he drive the girl out of his thoughts? What was the use, anyhow?

Not many minutes before the first guest reached Braeside, Wimbledon, a young woman came through an open French window of the fine old stone mansion at Inverlochtie in the highlands, crossed a paved terrace, and stood near a flight of broad steps leading to a garden. She was in evening dress, but, though to the manner born, or, more likely, because she knew her Inverness-shire even on a fine evening in late July, a warm and fleecy white shawl protected her neck and shoulders.

MRS. BASSETT ALWAYS TIRED

Now in Good Health by Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lansing, Mich.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I needed it. When I first used it I was so bad I could hardly walk across the room without crying. I was tired all the time. I think my trouble was coming on me for six months before I realized it. I read of your wonderful medicine in the paper, and my husband bought me a bottle, and after the first few doses I felt better, so kept on taking it until I was well and strong. I take it at times when I feel tired and it helps me. I will always have a good word for your medicine and tell anyone what good it has done me. I recommended it to my neighbor for her girl, who is sixteen years old, and it was just what she needed. She is feeling fine now, and goes to school every day."—MRS. E. F. BASSETT, 216 South Hayford Avenue, Lansing, Michigan.

Do not continue to feel all run-down and half sick when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is sold by druggists everywhere.

Miss Fuller Honored

Possibly the greatest honor of the year in the junior high school went to the member of Junior III class, who by secret ballot of her classmates and the faculty was adjudged to be the most outstanding and representative girl throughout the past year. This enviable honor went to Margaret Fuller of Junior III-1.

These announcements were followed by several gifts to the school. The first grade presented a swing to the school, with Jackson Dick as their spokesman. A wall motto of the school was presented by the Junior High school.

After the transaction of these various pieces of business the actual class day exercises were held, presided over by Frances Boykin.

These exercises consisted of two selections by the Junior High Glee Club, directed by Miss Elizabeth Marsh. The other numbers on the program were the class will by Josephine Richardson, the class prophecy, by Frances Ward, and the class poem by Betty Bramlett.

use the short cuts in cooking

That's how the modern woman saves time for other things—improves her cooking, too. St. Charles Evaporated is the convenient milk supply. Plenty of fresh milk but no bottles to wash. Saves space in the ice box, too—keeps on the pantry shelf till the can is opened. It's uniform—no cooking failures. It's doubly-rich, pure country milk—makes everything taste as if cooked with cream. If the recipe says milk, dilute with an equal part of water; for cream, use "as is". Today's Useful Hint On Jam and Jelly Making

By Elizabeth Palmer

Once you have tried the new short-boil method of making jams and jellies with Certo you will discard the old, uncertain way as an out of date piece of kitchen drudgery.

Certo jams and jellies jell perfectly—just tenderly firm every time—never a failure. They taste better, because the delicate, delicious, fresh flavor of your fruit is not boiled away. They look prettier, because you preserve their bright, natural color. You get half again more jam or jelly from your fruit because you save the juice which used to boil away.

A book of nearly one hundred recipes for delicious jams, jellies and marmalades comes with each bottle of Certo. Even if you are not an experienced cook, you can make perfect jams and jellies every time the Certo way.

Your grocer carries Certo, or you can send 10c (for postage) and get a trial half-size bottle which will make from 6 to 10 glasses of jam or jelly, depending upon the recipe used. Address Douglas-Pectin Corporation, 1945 Granite building, Rochester, N. Y.—(adv.)

NEWBORN PEACH MEN BUILD WAREHOUSE

Newborn, Ga., May 28.—(Special.) The Newborn Peach Growers' association has completed a well-constructed two-story wood building covered with metal at a cost of approximately $2,000. It is located on the side track of the Central of Georgia railroad. The size is 50x90 feet.

The growers are expecting to ship 35 cars of peaches this season. Twenty-five cars were shipped from here last year. Owing to the cold weather some time ago and a rain and wind storm a month ago, the peach crop will be about ten cars short.

The cotton farmers here are not feeling optimistic at this time owing to about four weeks' dry weather. It is estimated there is about a 50 per cent stand of cotton at this time.

Wesson Oil and a fresh egg make
MAYONNAISE

Wesson Oil and a fresh egg—beaten together and seasoned to taste—and you have a mayonnaise you'll be proud of!

Add a tablespoonful of Wesson Oil.

Beat vigorously with an egg beater or a fork—until the oil and egg are thoroughly mixed. How long will that take? Perhaps while you count fifty—not as fast as you can count but as fast as you can beat.

Add another tablespoonful of oil and beat again—vigorously. Two tablespoonfuls and beat again. Two or three more and beat again.

Then add Wesson Oil about four tablespoonfuls at a time, beating well after each addition—until your mayonnaise is as thick and stiff as you want it. The more oil you beat into it the thicker your mayonnaise will be. Most women use about two cupfuls—some more. [Never add more than a quarter cupful of oil at any one time.]

After your mayonnaise is made, add seasoning. Mix a half teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful each of sugar and mustard, a generous pinch each of paprika and red pepper—add a tablespoonful of lemon juice or vinegar and stir until the salt and sugar are dissolved—then pour into the mayonnaise and beat well.

With Wesson Oil Mayonnaise as a base you can make many delicious fancy salad dressings in a very few minutes—for instance—

THOUSAND ISLAND DRESSING · To a cupful of Wesson Oil mayonnaise you add a third cupful of Chili Sauce, a third cupful of whipped cream, two tablespoonfuls of chopped sour or sweet pickles or chow chow and one chopped pimento. Combine ingredients in order given.

CITY FINANCE HEADS HEAR MANY REQUESTS

After spending practically the entire day Friday in studying the June finance sheet for the purpose of culling items amounting to about $50,000 in order to avoid a deficit of that amount at the end of the year, the finance committee of city council late Friday adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning, when it is expected that "something definite" will be done.

Councilman A. J. Orme, chairman, stated Friday night that the committee went over the tentative list submitted by City Comptroller B. Graham West and that, while no definite action was taken, it is felt that an agreement concerning which items should be eliminated might be reached at this morning's session. He declined to discuss the matter further pending final action of the committee.

All meetings of the committee are executive and prior to the closeting of members Friday morning, several additional requests for funds were made. Mr. Orme reiterated his declaration of a policy of strict economy.

Chief among appeals for funds Friday was a request by Chief of Police James L. Beavers for a fund of about $6,000 to purchase 25 additional motorcycles for the department; a request of Chief W. B. Cody, of the fire department, and Alderman W. Guy Dobbs, chairman of the fire board, for funds to buy another fire engine; a plea of Postmaster Edwin K. Large and C. V. Hohenstein for additional money to speed up the renumbering program of Atlanta, and a request of the part department for about $18,000 with which to purchase additional acreage for Washington park and for improvements on the site.

STYLE MENTORS SEEK TO RECALL FANCY DRESSES

(Copyright, 1926, for The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Paris, May 28.—Dame Fashion came to the rescue of thousands of French needlewomen driven from employment or forced to do unlucrative work at a sumptuous luncheon at the Crillon hotel in an attempt to launch styles of trimmed hats and gowns to supersede the present plain, pipe-stem models.

Daniel Vincent, minister of commerce, made a stirring appeal to the women of the world to readopt the former modes of frills, furbelows, laces and ribbons, with chapeaux plentifully garnished with trimmings, in order to revive the industries of France, America, and elsewhere, which are now paralyzed through the evolution of the severely plain chemise and gowns and bald little cloche hats.

The organizers of the movement admitted that after winning the present battle they intend to start another campaign for the readoption of underwear by the fair sex to give the lingerie workers a chance to make a living again, as with the present models it is impossible for chic women to wear anything more than a brassiere and chiffon slip beneath their filmy, clinging gowns.

Census Reveals Astonishing Facts

According to the 1920 Census, there are 8,449,511 women and girls employed in all trades in the United States. Nearly nine million women would make a vast army.

Napoleon said, "An army travels on its stomach." This woman's army travels on its general health. Probably there is scarcely a woman in it who has not forced herself to work when she was not able. In all sorts of weather and under trying conditions, like good soldiers, they stick to their posts.

Many women have learned that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps to keep them fit to work. —(adv.)

New York, May 28.—(AP)—With the cotton market here closed until next Tuesday, trading today was very much restricted and fluctuations correspondingly narrow. After selling off to 17.62 early, October rallied to 17.67 and closed at 17.63, compared with 17.64 at the close yesterday. The general market closed barely steady, net 1 point lower to 4 points higher.

Owing to the holiday in Liverpool there were no cables from that market to influence sentiment here. The local opening was steady, 2 points up to 2 points lower. Active months showed net losses of about 2 to 3 points shortly after the opening on realizing or liquidation.

Comparatively small offerings were readily absorbed by covering for over the week-end, and the market steadied up during midday on continued drouth complaints from the eastern belt and the prospect for rather unsettled weather in the southwest. Light showers were reported in the Carolinas, but they were not considered sufficient, and map readers said they saw no clear prospect for adequate rainfall in the drouthy sections. July sold up to 18.43 and December to 17.60, net advances of about 3 points, while March worked up to 17.64, or 8 points net higher on a few buying orders.

Later fluctuations were irregular, the market closing at reactions of a few points from the best. There was some switching from July to later months but the bulk of the business was supposed to be of the usual pre-holiday character.

Another private crop report estimated the condition at 68.7 and the indicated acreage at 1.9 per cent less than last year, but it had no apparent effect on the market.

Exports today 8,515 bales, making 7,436,336 so far this season. Port receipts 13,557. U. S. port stocks 856,988.

MARKET QUIET AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, La., May 28.—(AP)—The cotton market was decidedly quiet today with price fluctuations restricted to a very narrow range, the extreme spread being only seven points on the most active months. The price trend was upward, due to shorts covering for over the week-end and in advance of the holidays in New York and Liverpool. The last-named market was closed today and will remain closed until Monday, while New York will be closed tomorrow and Monday for the Decoration day holidays.

At the highest of the day prices were four to seven points above the close of yesterday. The market remained around the high points until right at the end when it receded a point or two on liquidation. The close was steady, showing net gains for the day of 1 to 3 points.

Only one private crop report was issued during the day, making the condition average 68.7 per cent of normal, and the probable acreage decrease 1.9 per cent. It had no influence on prices.

At the start the market was steady and first trades showed no change to two points decline. The market eased off a little more during the first hour mainly on prospects for cooler weather in the eastern belt and probably showers. July traded down to 17.72, October to 17.18 and December to 17.17 or 1 to 3 points below the close of yesterday. These prices proved to be the lows of the day.

The market gradually improved on week-end covering and after mid-session, July traded up to 17.79; October to 17.22, and December to 17.24, or 4 to 7 points.

December to 17.24 or 4 to 7 points up from the lows and 3 to 4 points above yesterday's close. The close was a little below the best.

CARSWELL TO MAKE RACE FOR GOVERNOR

After conferring with friends throughout the state, George H. Carswell, former president of the state senate and for many years a leader of the Georgia legislature, will make his announcement as a candidate for governor, he announced in Atlanta Friday. Mr. Carswell said he would finish some business affairs and would conduct an aggressive campaign of more than two months after he makes his official announcement.

Mr. Carswell is a lawyer, banker and farmer, and has long been identified as a leader in state political affairs.

Charges of Theft Made in House Over Harbors Bill

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—General discussion of the $36,000,000 omnibus rivers and harbors bill neared its conclusion in the house today amid charges of sectional theft, agreements to exchange votes and a jesting threat by Representative Huddleston, democrat, Alabama, to "get out from under the pork barrel," unless he is given "a larger strip of bacon."

Debate continued to be centered about the question of water diversion from Lake Michigan, although Representative Newton, republican, Missouri, after this matter had been before the house for seven hours, contended that the bill under discussion did not touch upon that question.

Canadian power interests are responsible for agitation over this matter, he said, through their fear of suffering from the lowering of lake levels.

Representative Burton, republican, Ohio, former chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, in charge of the bill, and Representative Madden, an Illinois republican, exchanged charges and counter charges for more than two hours on the diversion question, Mr. Burton accusing Chicago of a "steal" in using water for sewage disposal and the Illinois member challenging Burton to "back up his statements with facts."

The measure is the first in the history of congress seeking to build up one section of the country by tearing down another, Mr. Burton said, while his contention that water diversion at Chicago was a large factor in a lowering of the lake level was denied by Mr. Madden.

675 ACRES OF LAND IN LOUISIANA OPENED TO PUBLIC

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Announcement was made at the interior department today of opening to settlement and entry under the general land laws of the former naval reserve of 675 acres in Saint Mary and Saint Martin parishes in Louisiana. Originally set aside because of live oak timber suitable for wooden naval vessels, the department today authorized its restoration to the public domain.

Settlers will be required to pay the appraised price of the land, $1.25 per acre, and $2 per thousand feet board measure for the timber. Qualified former world war service men and those having equitable claims may file applications from June 2 to 21 this year and the former service men will have preferential status from June 22 to September 20.

The lands will be opened to the general public September 21, but oil and gas deposits will be reserved to the government, in all cases.

SARGENT ORDERS IMMEDIATE TRIAL OF CHARLES MORSE

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Immediate trial of Charles W. Morse, of New York, and others, under an indictment returned in New York in 1922, was ordered today by Attorney General Sargent.

The indictment charged conspiracy to use the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of stock to the United States Steamship company.

Fletcher Dobyns, of Chicago, has been designated as a special assistant to prosecute the case. He probably will be assisted by Sylvester R. Rush, of the department of justice.

The Morse corporation was organized and controlled by Morse and his sons, Harry F., Benjamin, A., and Edwin A., whom the government said are the principal defendants. It is expected the case will be brought to trial within 60 days.

T. P. COOPER RESIGNS AGRICULTURE POST

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Thomas P. Cooper has resigned as chief of the bureau of agricultural economics to resume his duties as dean of the college of agriculture director of the experiment station at the University of Kentucky. He has been with agriculture department under a leave of absence granted by the university last September.

Secretary Jardine, on accepting Mr. Cooper's resignation, effective June 10, today appointed Lloyd S. Tenny, acting chief of the bureau. He has been serving as Mr. Cooper's assistant.

TREND UPWARD IN CURB MARKET

New York, May 28.—Unusually heavy pre-holiday trading characterized today's curb market, with the main price tendency still upward, despite stiffer call money rates and heavy pre-holiday profit taking.

Oils were again the center of speculative interest, some of the buying undoubtedly being influenced by the publication of bullish statistics on gasoline exports. Standard Oil of New York issues changed hands in large volume, the old stock advancing over a point and the new "when issued" stock crossing 33 to a new high. New Mexico and Arizona Land was the outstanding strong spot in the independent group, selling 3 points higher at 14 1-2.

A jump of 8 points to 449 in Ford Motors of Canada featured the motor group. The other motors failed to follow up the advance in the automotive group on the "big board," showing only small, fractional net changes. Baking shares also showed little change on the day. Strong spots in the industrial group included American Cyanamid "B," General Electric of Germany, Glen Alden Coal, Industrial Rayon, Libby Owens, New Jersey Zinc and Tubize Silk.

Several new issues were admitted to trading, including United Biscuit "A" and "B," Alpha Portland Cement common, Western Dairy Products, Minnesota Power and Light 7 per cent preferred and Wesson Oil and Snowdrift 7 per cent preferred.

SAMUEL F. PATTERSON, TEXTILE CHIEF, DIES

Roanoke Rapids, N. C., May 28.—(AP)—His illness of several years duration aggravated by attendance at the convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association in Atlanta last week, where he was elected president of the organization, Samuel F. Patterson died here early today at the age of 58.

Mr. Patterson had been in ill health for a number of years, and was confined to his bed after his return from Atlanta. The cause of death was acute nephritis, physicians said.

In addition to being president of the national association, Mr. Patterson also was president of the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' association, and for years had been chairman of the manufacturers' exchange committee. In the latter capacity he helped to bring the suit resulting in the federal child labor law being declared unconstitutional.

Mr. Patterson was president of the Rosemary Manufacturing company and the Roanoke Rapids Manufacturing company, two of the large textile establishments of the south. The twin towns of Roanoke Rapids and Rosemary owed most of their growth to the development of these two enterprises.

Born in Salem, N. C., in 1867, Mr. Patterson early entered the mill business and at 19 had become manager of the Odell mills at Concord, N. C. His rise from that time was rapid, and during his life he had been connected with numerous textile enterprises.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow morning, and the body will be taken to Winston-Salem for interment in the Moravian graveyard.

The mill-owner is survived by the widow of his third marriage, and three children, one son and two daughters; and by five brothers, John L. Patterson, of Richmond, Va.; Rufus L. and Edmund D. Patterson, both of New York; Dr. A. H. Patterson, of the University of North Carolina, and Frank Patterson, of Baltimore.

SUFFRAGE HEADS WILL BAR U. S. WOMAN'S PARTY

Paris, May 28.—(AP)—It is authoritatively learned that the joint board of international officers of the international woman suffrage alliance, and the presidents of the affiliated societies voted today not to admit the national woman's party of America to membership in the alliance.

The alliance, meeting in congress Monday, will vote on the matter as the first business of its session, and there was speculation today whether it would follow the recommendation of the board. The league of women voters, a member of the alliance, objects to admission of the national woman's party on the ground that the organization and the league "are opposed to each other in policy and political action."

New York, May 28.—(AP)—Unlike most pre-holiday sessions, today's stock market gave an impressive demonstration of strength on a heavy turnover both the rail and industrial averages closed higher on the day, with final quotations disclosing a long list of net gains ranging from 1 to 8 points.

Total sales were 1,596,300 shares, the largest since April 23, when the 2,000,000 mark was crossed for the last time.

The recovery took place in the face of a marked stiffening of call money rates due to the heavy calling of loans in order to meet the heavy holiday and June 1 demands for currency, and notwithstanding the absence of many large operators who went away early on extended holiday trips. The weekly mercantile reviews continue to emphasize the unfavorable effects of the nonseasonable weather but point out that bank clearings confirm other indications of a sustained large purchasing power.

Buying of the oil shares was stimulated by the publication of statistics showing that gasoline exports in the first four months of the year exceeded 575,000,000 gallons, or 32.6 per cent above those of the corresponding period last year. Despite rather heavy profit taking in this group, net gains of a point or more were made by General Asphalt and Standard Oil of New Jersey preferred. Lago touched a new high record at 23 on a heavy turnover.

Predictions that the recent advance in steel bars would be extended to other products infused new strength into the steel shares. U. S. Steel common advanced over two points to 125, a new high on the current recovery, and Crucible closed 1 5-8 higher at 69 7-8. Equipments were helped by the announcement of several large railroad orders and the declaration of an extra dividend by General Railway Signal.

Discovery that a rather thin market existed for some of the motor shares led to active short covering, particularly in such issues as General Motors, Hudson, Mack Trucks, White Motors and Willys-Overland, all of which closed 1 to nearly 2 points higher. Retail merchandising stocks also developed marked strength, Woolworth crossing 148 for a gain of nearly 6 points, while Montgomery Ward, Julius Kayser, R. H. Macy and Phoenix Hosiery showed net gains of 2 points or more.

Sharp advances also took place in a number of industrial specialties, with net gains of 3 or more points.

Atchison was again the leader in the railroad group, crossing 140 to within 1-8 of the record high for all time, established last year. A dozen or so other rails showed net advances of a point or more.

Wild fluctuations in May wheat, which closed 3 cents a bushel higher at $1.67 1-2 featured the otherwise quiet commodity markets. Cotton again fluctuated within a narrow trading area, closing practically unchanged. Sugar and coffee prices held steady.

Call money renewed at 3 3-4 per cent, advanced to 4 and thence to 4 1-2, closing at the top. Banks are reported to have called about $30,000,000 in loans during the day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Sharp recessions in the French and Belgian currencies in sympathy with an earlier decline in the London market featured foreign exchange trading. Both French and Belgian francs dropped about 8 points to around 3.23 and 3.10 cents, respectively. Demand sterling was slightly higher around $4.86 3-16. Spanish pesetas, which sold at their highest price in three years yesterday, fell back about 10 points to 15.15 cents on realizing.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

New York, May 28.—The stock market today was again strong and active. Business transacted on the floor of the exchanges was unusually large in view of the fact that trading will be suspended until Tuesday morning because of the triple holiday which starts after the close of business today. Many brokers and customers started leaving town late Thursday afternoon, but this did not seem to affect business today.

Demand for stocks started immediately at the opening of business and continued into the early afternoon dealings when some irregularity developed because of the advance in the local call money rate. The higher rate for call loans, however, was looked upon as a natural development and was expected. Withdrawals from the banks were unusually heavy because of the holidays and these came simultaneously with the usual month-end requirements. Easier conditions are expected to again prevail after June 1, but another flurry may develop later in connection with the new government financing next month.

The railroad shares and the oils were again the leaders in today's market operations and many issues in this group established new high records for the current year. Atchison was the leader among the rails and some favorable announcement is expected from next Tuesday's dividend meeting. The Standard Oils were again most prominent in their group. Steel common moved forward sharply and did much to revive interest in this group, while Mack Truck also advanced sharply, leading the motor shares. Mack Truck directors also are scheduled to meet for dividend action early next week but so far as can be learned there will be no change in the dividend payment.

Standard Oil Change.

Talk is being revived in financial circles of some change in the financial structure of Standard Oil of New Jersey. Such talk was heard last year but was denied by company executives. The plan which the directors had in mind, according to Wall street reports, was retirement of the outstanding seven per cent preferred stock at 115 and accrued dividends, at the same time giving stockholders an opportunity to convert their stock into the common shares of the company on a favorable basis. The dividend return on the common stock would naturally be less than now received on the preferred, but this, it is claimed, would be offset by the greater value of the common shares in the open market. Some action along these lines is expected before the close of the current year, and it is considered possible that the common dividend rate may be increased at the meeting scheduled for August 15.

The market position of Standard Oil of New York and General Petroleum as a result of the merger of these two companies, is being watched with interest. Prior to consummation of the merger the prices for the respective issues permitted arbitrage operations and hundreds of traders sold Standard Oil of New York short and bought General Petroleum against their commitments. As a result a large outstanding short interest now exists in Standard Oil of New York and the word is being sent around that the short interest may be run in before the date when General Petroleum certificates will be delivered to Standard of New York stockholders. Both stocks were again strong in today's market.

Sentiment in financial circles continues cheerful as a result of the ability of the market to rally as fast as it has during the past ten days. This sharp advance, however, has resulted in some profit-taking and also in increased short selling. This may cause some irregularity for few days but if the tactics of the professionals selling short does not bring liquidation, it will improve the technical position of the market.

Preferred Stocks.

Two preferred stocks listed on the exchange attracted considerable attention during the past week because of their sharp recoveries from recent low levels. These are Central Leather preferred and Producers and Refiners preferred stock. The rise in Central Leather preferred is based upon reports that early announcement may be expected of the company's proposed plan of reorganization. According to statements made in fairly responsible circles the preferred stock will share better in the reorganization than had been first expected. In the case of Producers and Refiners the recovery in the stock is due partly to improved earnings and partly to recent readjustments in the company's balance sheet as indicated by the annual report. About one year of back dividends are due on the shares and there appears little prospect of early resumption of payments, but the company is being watched closely here because of its extensive properties in the Panhandle field.

In line with recent predictions that numerous dividend increases may be announced in the near future reports are circulated in the street that the Corn Products dividend may be increased to a $3 basis when the directors meet on June 25. It is stated that the trend of earnings is again upward, and that possibly later in the year extra dividends will be declared.

The financial district is anxiously awaiting the official details of the Southern California Edison financing which will be announced next week. According to banking information most of the new bonds will be used to refund outstanding obligations and result in saving of interest charges. Little new money is being raised. The company's stock has just been transferred to the stock exchange list and trading has been active since it made its debut on the big board.

Rumors of resumption of negotiations between California Packing and Postum Cereal are being revived. It will be remembered that this deal was virtually completed earlier in the year but was suddenly called off when the government was investigating formation of the proposed bread trust.

Coffee.

New York, May 28.—Coffee futures were rather irregular today with the small business reported, attributed chiefly to pre-holiday liquidation or evening up. The opening was 3 points higher to 3 points lower, but after selling off to 16.67 for September, the price rallied, closing at 16.78. The general market closed steady at net advance of 2 to 8 points. Sales were estimated at 21,000 bags. Closing quotations: July 17.45; September 16.78; December 15.97; March 15.43; May 15.05.

Spot coffee quiet; Rio 7s 20½ to 20¾; Santos 4s 22½ to 23. Cost and freight offers including part Bourbon at 21.20 to 21.80.

Dry Goods.

New York, May 28.—The week's business in finished cotton goods was larger than that of the preceding week, but prices were unsatisfactory to merchants and manufacturers. Print cloths and sheetings closed the week lower and were in quiet demand. Curtailment of production was increased greatly in the past two weeks. Raw silk was unchanged here and quiet. Burlap prices held steady at Calcutta. Business here continues quiet. Raw wool markets were quiet and much interest attaches to the reopening of London wool sales next week, as it is believed prices will become stabilized and will lead to further business from manufacturers here. Garment and clothing manufacturers are becoming more active and more interest is shown in small lots of fall fabrics for cutting purposes.

New York, May 28.—(AP)—The bond market today was afflicted with the usual preholiday dullness, but prices held firm. Most of the day's activity centered in semispeculative issues to which attention was attracted by the improvement in stock prices.

Some restraint was placed upon trading by a slight tightening of money conditions. Local banks called more than $30,000,000 in loans in anticipation of a heavy holiday demand for funds and of substantial month-end requirements.

Traction issues for a time gave indications of monopolizing trading interest as large buying orders were placed for bonds of the local companies. After selling at the year's highest levels, however, several of the interborough and B. M. T. lines encountered profit-taking which reduced or cancelled the earlier gains.

Oil company obligations continued active in the industrial list but their showing was secondary to that of the sugar company issues, several of which responded to advancing prices for this commodity. Cuba Cane Sugar 8s moved up 1 5-8 points, but American Beet Sugar 6s fell to a new low price for the year at 94. Virginia-Carolina Chemical and Wickwire-Spencer Steel bonds were active and higher.

Most of the changes in railroad list were limited to fractions, but several issues developed individual strength. St. Louis Southwestern 4s, New Haven 4s of 1954 and Seaboard adjustment 5s gained 1 to 3 points.

Foreign obligations were firm with new high records for the year established by several of the Mexican issues and Hungarian 7 1-2s.

Dun's Review.

New York, May 28.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

The general aspects of the business situation are now essentially changed as another month comes to an ending. A gradual retrograde movement has for some time been under way in certain industrials and still continues, while complaint is yet heard of the deleterious effects of inclement weather on retail trade in some parts of the country. This is conspicuously the case in the northeastern area, where abnormally low temperatures have prevailed, and mercantile results thus far in the spring season have not met earlier expectations. There is unmistakable evidence, however, of an unusually heavy aggregate of transactions, and the latest returns show an unprecedented railroad freight traffic for this period of the year. Statistics of bank clearings confirm the other indications of a sustained large public purchasing power, employment of labor being full, and it is the almost universal report that dealings exceed those of a year ago.

Weekly bank celarings: $8,421,893,000.

WHEAT STRONGER ON HEAVY BUYING

Chicago, May 28.—(AP)—Surprising renewal of strength developed in the wheat market today. Speculators who were selling freely in expectation of forcing a fresh break in the May price found difficulty getting their wheat back.

Today's deliveries on May contracts totaled only 301,000 bushels, and nervousness of traders was increased by unfavorable crop reports from Kansas and Nebraska. Wheat closed strong, 7-8c to 3 3-4c net higher, with corn 1-8c down, and provisions unchanged to 12c advance.

Top figures in the wheat market were reached at the opening and again at the close, the leader in each case being the May delivery. Considerable significance was attached in some quarters to the fact that June delivery commanded more than 12c premium today over July, and it was currently asserted that cash wheat in June would be scarcer than in May. In this connection, it was pointed out that mills have bought as sparingly as possible of late, and that the domestic visible supply has dropped below the total of a year ago.

One anomalous condition existing here today, however, was that cash wheat prices failed to follow the sharp new upturn in the May price. As a matter of fact, toward the end of the day, No. 2 red and No. 2 hard winter both sold at 2c under May, the first time they have actually been at a discount here. A reason given for this was that 179 carloads arrived here today, and at the moment the only buyers were elevators.

On the other hand, future deliveries of wheat including May were in active demand, especially toward the last. Contributing to the late upward trend of the futures market was word of export sales of more than 1,000,000 bushels from Canada. Besides, a statement from a leading authority said the crop outlook in the American northwest is uncertain.

There was but little snap to demand for corn or oats, but wheat strength brought about late rallies after deferred deliveries of corn had touched the lowest price on the crop.

Packers' buying gave firmness to provisions despite lower quotations on hogs.

Sugar.

New York, May 28.—No change occurred in the raw sugar market today. Offerings were more liberal, but demand was light. The only sales reported were 45,000 bags of Cuban to outport refiners for second half of June shipment at 4.21, paid.

Raw futures were easier under liquidation for over the three-day adjournment and selling for both trade and Cuban account promoted by the continued liberal offerings in the spot market. Final prices were at about the lowest and 2 to 4 points below the previous close. July closed 2.48 September 2.59; December 2.71; January 2.73; March 2.71.

Demand for refined was light and prices were unchanged to 10 points higher, although still ranging from 5.55 to 5.70 for fine granulated.

GOODYEAR SUPERIOR TIRES

James L. Beavers, Atlanta's chief of police, attained national fame 14 years ago when, at the request of the Evangelical Ministers' association of this city, he enforced the law, which custom had set aside, against commercialized vice.

Not many know that the policy, which he then inaugurated and put into practice in the city of Atlanta, played a large part in the making of the program, which the United States government adopted for dealing with this problem during the years of the world war.

The Storms.

Most of us are familiar with the storm of political battles, which have beaten upon, and raged about James L. Beavers, from that day until this. Few, however, can realize what these must have cost this man in mental suffering, and in actual financial loss. If we are not mistaken, in addition to his salary for these recent years, the city has never paid him the salary, which Atlanta withheld from him during those years, when he was under suspension, prior to and during the war with Germany, under charges of "insubordination," although the records of the trial showed, that during his services, as patrolman and officer, which had then covered a period of 25 years, he had not received so much as a single reprimand.

None, that we know of, has contributed and suffered more.

The Light.

"The sun," he says, "is more than 90,000,000 miles distant from the earth. Yet by so little and simple a thing as a watch crystal you can draw fire from that immense distance and set the grass aflame. So small as our minds are, and infinite as God is, we can draw enough light and heat from Him to illuminate and inspire our whole existence."

Of Faith.

By his fidelity to the faith, which was within him, this man has been used of God to kindle a fire, the light of which has led to better things not only in Atlanta, but in scores of other cities, and in multitudes of lives, which neither James L. Beavers, nor we can ever know.

This makes the more gratifying to us the way in which our newspapers and all have received his triumphant return to office, which, for all we know, he owes alone to his fighting faith in what he conceives to be right.

Rays Focused.

Again through James L. Beavers the blazing light is focused upon the police department, that department which touches and influences for good or evil more lives, than does any other department in our city.

The man is not perfect. Who of us is?

He has made mistakes. Who of us has not?

At this time, we are not seeking to condemn those who have believed that they were called upon to oppose the chief. We would not reopen old sores.

Not Dictating.

Neither, would we undertake to dictate how those, whom the people of Atlanta have elected to office for this purpose, should operate the police department. The law has made this both simple and plain. And the law has been vindicated in a way, which should put heart into every man in public office, who desires to do his duty. Furthermore, it is not the province of this committee to dictate.

Only Appealing.

We would only appeal to every man and woman of good will in Atlanta, whether they be in or out of public office, to unite with us in hoping and praying that complete justice and a square deal, free from political trickery and self-seeking, shall be given to James L. Beavers, as he again assumes office, as Atlanta's chief of police.

If all of us will do this, is it too much to hope and believe, that the rays of God's love and righteousness shining through each one of us, and concentrating on Atlanta's police department, may there kindle a blaze which will purge our city's heart of many an evil, and bring a great light to all of the world!

ORIENTAL SHIPS SOLD TO DOLLAR

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—In the face of opposition from the Pacific northwest, the shipping board late today signed the contract under which five passenger-freight ships on the Admiral-Oriental line out of Seattle are to become the property of R. Stanley Dollar, of San Francisco.

To the very last opponents of the sale sought to block action by the board. Senators McNary, of Oregon, and Jones, of Washington, appealed to President Coolidge, taking with them to the white house a resolution adopted earlier in the day by the senate commerce committee protesting against the sale.

The president promised to see what could be done about it, and summoned Chairman O'Connor, of the shipping board, and Commissioner Walsh to his office, but they informed him the contract had been signed and it was too late to prevent consummation of the sale.

The board had the senate committee's resolution of protest when it voted four to two to instruct President Crowley, of the fleet corporation, to complete the sale. He affixed his signature to the contract ten minutes afterwards. Dollar previously had signed it.

Macon, Ga., May 28.—(AP)—Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, recently assigned to service in the Far East, this afternoon turned the first spadeful of earth for the fundation of the Greater Wesleyan college at Rivoli. Only a few hours before Bishop Ainsworth had been elected chairman of the board of trustees of the college.

In rapid succession other men and women of prominence in the history of Wesleyan college—the first chartered college for women in the world—used pick and shovel to dig the hole deeper.

To Cost $3,000,000.

The breaking of ground for the $3,000,000 college plant was the closing scene of a pageant staged by the alumnae, trustees, students, faculty and others depicting the history of the institution.

The stage was a natural amphitheater, a considerable distance from the Forsyth road, on the property that was acquired by the trustees several months ago. In the background was the heavy green foliage of the woodland. More than 3,000 persons witnessed the event.

There were many notable women in the group, and men who have given freely of their money and time to the upbuilding of the educational institution. Mrs. Loulie Kemball Rogers was the oldest living graduate in attendance.

Mrs. Will Chappell, of Americus, who graduated from Wesleyan 50 years ago, attracted much attention when she appeared in the wedding gown in which she was married 45 years ago.

Replica of First College.

The pageant moved slowly from one side of the stage, to the music of a brass band. There was a replica of the first college on the back-stage. Performers were hidden behind the natural shrubbery of the property, appearing as their roles were called. The movements were announced through amplifiers.

The spirit of "Greater Wesleyan" was portrayed by Mrs. W. D. Lamar; the spirit of the adumnae by Mrs. W. D. Anderson. Judge John S. Candler, of Atlanta, represented state; Dr. Walter Anthony represented church.

Dr. W. F. Quillian, president of Wesleyan college for the past six years, was reelected for another term of three years at the final session of the board of trustees here today. His administration was highly commended by the board.

Mrs. S. T. Coleman, of Macon, was elected an alumnae trustee of the college for a term of two years. She will succeed Mrs. W. D. Lamar, of Macon, whose term expires at the close of this college term. The other two alumnae trustees on the board are Mrs. M. E. Tilly, of Atlanta, and Miss Lucy Lester, of Thomasville.

The commencement exercises begin Saturday night with the recital by the conservatory of music students. The commencement sermon Sunday morning will be preached by Dr. Plato Durham, of Emory university.

The growth of Wesleyan during the last six years and its increased financial stability were outlined by Dr. W. F. Quillian, president, at the annual meeting of the board of trustees.

A gift of an additional $5,000 from Sam Tate, of Tate, Ga., a trustee, was announced, his previous contribution being $50,000.

In the report of Dr. Quillian, the comparative figures of the college for the six-year period since he has been at the institution were given. Gross assets were shown to have increased from $798,000 in 1920 to $1,432,800 at present. With the gift of B. N. Duke on July this figure will reach $1,532,800, which is an increase of $724,800 in the six-year period.

The graduating class this year of 75 is the largest to graduate with the sole exception of the class of two years ago, when there were 76 to get diplomas.

Ainsworth Is Chairman.

Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, who will spend part of the year in the Far East, was reelected chairman of the board of trustees and O. A. Park was elected vice chairman to succeed Judge H. W. Hill, Atlanta, resigned. W. R. Rogers, Jr., was reelected secretary of the board.

The trustees accepted the resignation of Former Governor N. E. Harris, who has been a member of the board since 1882. This action was taken at the urgent insistence of Governor Harris who is unable to attend the meetings. However, he was invited to be present at the sessions whenever possible.

Amusements

Keith's Forsyth.

A beautifully staged revue and several amusing comedy acts, topped off with a brilliant exhibition of gymnastics are the high lights of the vaudeville program at Keith's. The headline attraction is given by Florence Gast and girls, who present the revue. O'Rourke and Kelly have a splendid melange of comedy, song and patter, and Dalton and Craig, not to be behind the remainder of the bill in comedy, offer "Check Mate." Viola Rudell and Edward Dunigan offer "Such Is Life." Michon brothers are gymnasts.

The Rialto.

The melodramatic thriller, "Sea Horses," with Jack Holt and Florence Vidor as the stellar members of the cast, closes its engagement of a week at the Rialto theater with last showings today. It is a spectacular story of life in African seacoast villages.

Also on the program is a re-issue of Harold Lloyd's famous comedy, "Now or Never."

Loew's Grand theater will offer four performances Saturday of the pleasing vaudeville bill which is headed by Sid Hall and his entertainers. This act is one of the best of the year of its kind. Other acts on the bill are Angel and Fuller in "Music and Chatter;" Francis, Ross and DuRoss, eccentric dancers; Jack Jarvis and company in a comedy sketch, "The Woman Pays;" Francis and LaPell in a daring aerial balancing stunt. The Loew feature picture offering is "The Best Bad Man," with Tom Mix in the leading role.

The Howard Theater.

No more funny gags exist than have been used in W. C. Fields' first Paramount comedy, "It's the Old Army Game," which is playing at the Greater Howard theater for the last times today. The brilliant classic dancing of Yurieva and Swoboda in Frank Cambria's "A Garden Festival," which is this week's stage feature, is one of the outstanding features of this splendid stage production.

RUSSELL NAMED IN IRISH PLOT

Queenstown, Ireland, May 28.—(AP) It was stated here today that Charles E. Russell was one of the persons whose names were mentioned in letters found on Patrick Garland, arrested on April 27 on landing at Queenstown from a liner and charged with conspiring for the overthrow of the Free State government.

Patrick Garland, when arrested at Queenstown, gave a New York address. It was announced that he would be tried for treason, the principal evidence being a series of documents the authorities found on him bearing on the position of republican organizations in the United States and Ireland.

The prosecuting attorney declared he regarded the arrest as of the greatest importance to the Free State, saying the documents indicated that negotiations were under way in the United States for purchase of machine guns.

According to one official, Garland, after he was searched, said that if he had had any idea of the contents of the package he would have burned it. Customs officials testified that the package containing the documents was found suspended by a string from Garland's neck beneath his shirt.

U. S. MAY JOIN PROBE OF WILL OF STOKES

New York, May 28.—The United States government may join Judge Ben B. Lindsay, of Denver, and Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes in investigation of the will of W. E. D. Stokes, by which the two minor children of Mrs. Stokes were denied a share in the millionaire's estate, it became known here Friday.

Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for Mrs. Stokes, and Judge Lindsay, who is guardian with the mother of the two children, said Friday that the assertion of A. H. Gleason, the millionaire's attorney, that the Stoke's estate amounted to about $852,000, when it was reputed to amount to upwards of $10,000,000, might interest the government inheritance tax officers.

"Gleason seems to have fallen heir to the old tricks to which his employer was given in his eccentric lifetime," said Untermeyer. "He asserts the actual value of the Stoke's estate is about $852,000."

Untermeyer then listed the Ansonia hotel property and other valuable real estate holdings, along with millions in securities, which would bring the total far above the $5,000,000 mark.

"Mr. Gleason will contend that these were given to W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., beneficiary by the terms of the will, before his father's death," Untermeyer added. "That apparently transparent claim would reduce the estate from eight or ten millions to less than one million. Whether or not this claim will get by is one of the questions which will enter into the issues of fraud and undue influence which will form part of the basis of the contest of the will.

"If the purpose is to kill two birds with one stone in evading the inheritance taxes and cheating these children I believe it is doomed to fail at both ends."

CORDELE KIWANIANS TO HELP HOSPITAL

Cordele, Ga., May 28.—(Special.)—Cordele Kiwanis club has launched a campaign to furnish and equip the local hospital and next week will give a day to a program for that excellent work.

The needs of the hospital will be presented at the Wednesday luncheon when a committee of women composd of Mrs. E. H. Stambaugh, chairman: Mrs. Guyt Gleaton and Mrs. J. K. Luck will report their findings to the club members. Mrs. Dowdy, superintendent of the hospital, will outline what will be needed to make the hospital up-to-date in furnishings and equipment.

The hospital is privately owned, but does a great deal of charity work and the purpose is to help bear this burden.

NOTICE

The public is hereby notified that the partnership of Potter & Howard has been dissolved by mutual consent as of May 28th and that the business will henceforth be operated by the undersigned.

JUDGE RECUSES SELF IN TRIAL OF BOYLES

Mobile, Ala., May 28.—(AP)—United States District Attorney Aubrey Boyles, of the south Alabama federal district, whose appointment was rejected by the senate, petitioned District Judge Robert T. Ervin today to recuse himself from the case in which Boyles has been cited to show cause why he should not be disbarred as an attorney in the federal court here. Prejudice and personal bias is charged against the presiding magistrate by Boyles in his petition. The disbarment proceedings are set for June 7.

Acknowledgment of the receipt of the petition from Boyles was made by Court Clerk Virgil C. Griffin, who announced that Judge Ervin already had recused himself. It was announced by the district attorney's office that no notice to such effect had reached there.

Attached to the petition for Judge Ervin to recuse himself is a copy of a letter he said had been written by Judge Ervin to Attorney General Sargent early this month. The letter, according to the petition, sought to force the attorney general to oust Boyles from office.

Judge Ervin declared in this letter, according to the copy attached to the petition, that "my experience with Mr. Boyles has caused me to lose all confidence in his veracity and his integrity."

WATSON PRAISES COOLIDGE REGIME AT CONVENTION

Indianapolis, May 28.—(AP)—Pledging unqualified allegiance to President Coolidge and denominating his break with the chief executive over the question of American adherence to the world court protocol as "just a difference between republicans," Senator James E. Watson discussed virtually current legislative topics in the principal address of the republican state convention here.

"He stands for the things we stand for," was Watson's reference to Coolidge after he had praised the latter's policy of economy and indorsed other official acts of his administration.

Both Watson and Senator Arthur R. Robinson, the keynote speaker, commented on and appeared highly pleased by the anti-court plank inserted in the state platform by the convention. They also promised to lend their efforts toward enactment of legislation on disposition of crop surpluses.

ABD-EL-KRIM MAKES FORMAL SURRENDER

Fez, French Morocco, May 28.—(AP)—Abd-El-Krim, the deposed Riffian chieftain, who on Wednesday announced his submission, made formal surrender today at Taza, to representatives of General Boichut, French commander-in-chief in Morocco. The ceremony, which took place at Camp Girardot, as described in messages from Taza, was not the imposing affair that might have been expected, since because of the express request of the Spanish government, Krim was treated like any other tribal chieftain laying down his arms.

The French say that Krim's brother, Si Mohammed, and their uncle, are expected to come within the French lines soon. Tribesmen ready to surrender have continued to approach the French outposts, and it is asserted that only a few centers of resistance are left in the Marla region.

Krim's plight as vanquished warrior was relieved somewhat by the arrival of most of the members of his family and a goodly portion of his property at Targuist this morning, transported by a convoy of more than 200 mules.

It is understood that at the time of the rupture of the peace negotiations at Oujda, Krim succeeded in sending a considerable amount of his available capital abroad.

BUY A BUILDING LOT

There is no feeling quite as comforting as the knowledge that one building lot as a step leading toward home ownership. Make a small payment down (10% of the purchase price) and pay the balance in a series of monthly or annual notes with low interest rates.

Five years from now you will congratulate yourself on your foresight in having acquired a building lot. With a city lot fully paid for it is an easy step toward financing a home.

There is no feeling quite as comforting as the knowledge that one owns the home and is free of the worry of finding a place in which to live. Renting is merely a substitute and is not a permanent solution of the home problem. Take the first step now and make a payment on a good building lot.
